SEC. 7.4. Taxes levied by the board of supervisors for the benefit of the authority shall be a lien upon all the real property within the authority and shall have the same force and effect as other liens for taxes. Their collection may be enforced in the same manner as liens for county taxes are enforced.

SEC. 7.5. At any time prior to the first receipt by the authority of revenues from taxation, the counties within the authority may loan any available money to the authority for the purposes of organization and operation. Such expenditures shall constitute a proper expenditure of county funds. The authority shall add the sums of money so borrowed from the counties to the first amount apportioned by the authority pursuant to Section 7.2 and repay the counties for all money borrowed from the first revenues received from taxation.

SEC. 7.6. The treasurers of the counties within the authority shall pay into the treasury of the authority all funds held by them to the credit of the authority.

SEC. 7.7. The authority shall, in carrying out the provisions of this chapter, comply as nearly as possible with the provisions of Chapter 1 (commencing at Section 29000), Division 3, Title 3 of the Government Code of California.

SEC. 7.8. The maximum tax rate set forth in Section 7.2 may be increased, and, having been increased, may be decreased by a majority vote of the registered voters within the territorial limits of the authority voting at an election which may be ordered by the authority on its own motion, or shall be ordered by the authority within 120 days after the filing with the authority of a petition signed by not less than 10 percent of the registered voters within the territorial limits of the authority requesting that an election be ordered, unless the petitioners request that the election be consolidated with the next general election.

Any decrease in the maximum tax rate pursuant to this section shall not be in an amount which will reduce the maximum tax rate for the authority below that specified in Section 7.2. The authority shall determine whether the increase or decrease shall remain in effect for a specified or unspecified period of time, unless the petition filed by the electors provides for a specified or unspecified period of time. If a specified period is provided for in the petition, or is determined upon by the authority, such period shall be stated on the ballot.

SEC. 7.9. An election pursuant to this chapter shall be called, held, and conducted as nearly as practicable in the same manner as the election provided for in Chapter 5.

The costs incurred by each county in connection with this section shall be paid out of the funds of the authority.

SEC. 7.10. The ballot used in the election held pursuant to this chapter shall contain substantially the following: "Shall the proposed (increase, decreased) in the maximum tax rates from _____ to _____ (such rate to be in effect in the area of the authority for the year (or years) 19___ to 19___) be authorized?" Opposite such words, in separate lines, the words "Yes" and "No" shall be printed, with a voting square opposite each such word. Each voter shall stamp or print a cross in the voting square after the answer he desires to give.

SEC. 7.11. Any decrease or increase in the maximum tax rate of the district shall become effective on July 1st following the election. Any increase in tax rates shall remain in effect only for the period specified on the ballot.

SEC. 7.12. The proceeds of the increase in the tax rate in excess of the maximum rate specified in Section 7.2 may be used for any purpose of the authority, including capital outlay. The authority may also establish a capital outlay fund for the accumulation of funds derived from the increase over the maximum tax rate specified in Section 7.2."

O God, from Whom proceeds all right counsels and just works, be mindful of us this day that we, and all who labor with us may be brought to the full knowledge of Thy will in the work before us. Thou knowest, O Lord, our weaknesses—that we are unable to do anything good without Thee. Deny us not then, the help of Thy grace. Grant us the spirit of always thinking and doing what is right. Give to us who have a solemn obligation to Thee and Thy people, that knowledge and wisdom so that by Thy help we may show by sound use of our judgment and will that we have ever chosen those means that best serve our State and our people. May we face the responsibilities that are before us with courage, with a new and stronger faith in our government and a firmer faith in Thee. AMEN.

"SECTION 1. Section 14638.1 is added to the Education Code, to read:

14638.1. Any member who has qualified for service retirement under Section 14601, may elect, as provided in Section 14637, and without right of revocation or change after approval of the election by the retirement board, to receive the actuarial equivalent as of the date of his retirement, of the retirement allowance payable to him when and if he retires for service or disability in a reduced retirement allowance according to the provisions of either Option 2 or Option 3 as stated in Section 14637. If such a member at the time of making the election has a living spouse who would qualify for an allowance under Section 14638.2, the election under this Section 14638.1 shall be invalid and of no effect unless and until the consent of such spouse to it, is filed at the office of the retirement system in Sacramento, California.

Upon such member's death at least 30 days after the date upon which the election is received in the office of the retirement system in Sacramento, California, and prior to the effective date of his retirement, the person who was nominated by him under the option he elected and who survives him, shall receive an allowance calculated under such option, upon the assumption that such member retired for service on the date of his death and died immediately thereafter. The payment of such allowance to such person shall be in lieu of both the death benefit provided by Section 14575 and the allowance provided by Section 14638.2, and no such death benefit or such allowance shall be paid on account of such death to any person or beneficiary, regardless of whether the person nominated under the option elected, survives the member. Payment of the allowance under the option following such death, shall be in addition to the payment to any beneficiary, of any survivor allowance provided under this system.

If such member subsequently retires for service or disability, he shall receive, regardless of whether the person nominated by him under the option elected, is then living, a reduced allowance according to the provisions of Section 14637 and the option elected, and he shall be subject to Section 14638.

The amount of the allowance prior to optional modification, shall be calculated on the basis of the member's age at death before retirement, or at retirement, as the case may be, but the reduction of such allowance under the option elected, shall be based on the ages of such member and the person nominated by him under such option, at the effective date of such election.

SEC. 2. Section 14638.2 is added to said code, to read:

14638.2. Upon the death before retirement of a member who is qualified for service retirement under Section 14601, and on account of whose death the benefit provided by Section 14575 is otherwise payable, a monthly allowance equal to one-half of the monthly retirement allowance prior to modification under options in Section 14637, which the member would have been entitled to receive if he had retired for service on the date of his death, shall be payable:

(a) To the member's widow, or to the member's widower who was receiving at least one-half of his support from the member at the time of the member's death, and with respect to both widow and widower, who was married to such member prior to the occurrence of the injury or onset of the illness which resulted in death, provided such widow or widower does not qualify for an allowance under Section 14638.1; or

(b) If there is no qualifying surviving spouse, or if such spouse dies or remarries, to unmarried children, including step-children, of the member, who are under 18 years of age.

The allowances payable under this section shall be in lieu of the death benefit provided by Section 14575, except for the accumulated annuity deposits included therein, but a person qualifying for the allowance or such person's guardian may elect, before the first payment on account of it, to receive such death benefit in lieu of the allowance. The member's accumulated annuity deposits shall be paid to the person qualifying for the allowance, and the remainder of the accumulated contributions of the member shall be applied toward providing the allowance, and the balance not so provided shall be payable from state contributions.

SEC. 3. Section 14638.3 is added to said code, to read:

14638.3. The allowance provided by Section 14638.2 shall be paid from the Retirement Annuity Fund, and shall begin to accrue on the day next following the date of death of the member, and payments to a surviving spouse shall continue only until death or remarriage, and to or on account of children with respect to each child, until the attainment of age 18 or prior marriage.

If payment of the allowance provided by Section 14638.2 is stopped because of remarriage of the surviving spouse, or the attainment of the age of 18 years by a child, before the sum of the monthly payments made, equals the death benefit provided by Section 14575, a lump sum equal to the difference shall be paid to the remarried spouse, or if there is no such spouse, to the surviving children of the member, share and share alike.

From the monthly allowance payable under Section 14638.2, there shall be deducted a total amount equal to that portion of the benefit payable on account of said death by a local retirement system, which is provided from contributions of the district operating said system, and is in addition to the portion of the benefit payable by said local system which is made up of the accumulated contributions of the member, and no monthly allowance shall be paid under this section until the total amount deducted equals said portion provided by district contributions.

SEC. 4. Section 14565 of said code is amended to read:

14565. (a) At the beginning of each fiscal year the retirement system shall pay to each local district maintaining a local retirement system the following amounts:

(1) From the Retirement Annuity Fund, an amount equal to the difference with respect to all service rendered by persons whose retirement is effective prior to July 1, 1947, and with respect to service rendered prior to July 1, 1944, by persons whose retirement is effective after June 30, 1947, and one-half the difference with respect to service rendered after June 30, 1944, by persons whose retirement is effective after June 30, 1947, between the benefits paid from the Retirement Annuity Fund during the preceding year to persons who are entitled to receive benefits from the local retirement system and the benefits which would have been paid during the preceding year to those persons if they were not entitled to receive benefits from the local retirement system.

(2) From the Retirement Annuity Fund, an amount equal to the difference between the death benefits paid from the Retirement Annuity Fund during the preceding year on account of persons who qualified for death benefits under the local retirement system, and the death benefit which would have been paid during the preceding year on account of such persons if they had not qualified for death benefits from the local retirement system, all regardless of elections of survivor allowances under Section 14638.2.

(b) The amounts paid under subdivision (a) of this section by the retirement system to each local district maintaining a local retirement system shall not be used to reduce the contributions required of members of the local retirement system or to increase the benefits payable by the local retirement system, but shall be applied to reduce the cost of support of the local retirement system to the taxpayers of the local district maintaining the local retirement system.

(c) The State shall contribute annually to the Permanent Fund and to the Retirement Annuity Fund the amounts required to be paid from said funds, respectively, under subdivision (a) of this section.

SEC. 5. Section 14575 of said code is amended to read:

14575. "SECTION 1. Section 29 of the Orange County Water District Act (Ch. 924 of the Stats. of 1933) is amended to read:

Sec. 29. Each operator of a water producing facility within said district shall file with said district on or before February 15, 1954, an information water production statement. Such statement shall provide, among other information which said district may require, an estimate of the total production of water from each water producing facility for the preceding water year, an estimate of the production of water from each water producing facility for the current water year, an estimate of the production of water from each water producing facility for the ensuing water year and information as to the method or basis of making such estimates. Each operator of a water producing facility within said district, until such time as said water producing facility has been permanently abandoned, shall file with said district on or before the thirty-first day of January, 1955, and on or before the thirty-first day of July, 1955, and thereafter on a semiannual basis on or before the last day in January and July of each year, a statement setting forth the total production in acre-feet of water for the preceding six months period (excluding the month in which the statement is due), a general description or number locating each water producing facility and the method or basis of the computation of such water production. If no water has been produced from said water producing facility during the preceding six months period, said statement shall be filed as provided for herein setting forth that no water has been produced during said period. Said statement shall be verified by a written declaration that it is made under the penalties of perjury. The replenishment assessment is payable to said district on or before the last date which the water production statements shall be filed and is computed by multiplying the production in acre-feet of water as disclosed in the statement, by the replenishment assessment rate. At such time as any said water producing facility has been permanently abandoned, the operator thereof shall give written notice of such abandonment to said district.

If any operator of a water producing facility shall fail to pay the replenishment assessments when due, said district shall charge interest at a rate of 1 percent each month on the delinquent amount of the replenishment assessment.

Should any operator of a water producing facility fail to register each water producing facility or fail to file on or before the thirty-first day of January and the thirty-first day of July of each year the water production statement, said district shall in addition to charging interest as provided herein assess a penalty charge against such operator in an amount of 10 percent of the amount found by said district to be due.

The board of directors may, at the time of fixing the replenishment assessment rate, provide by resolution that the operator of any water producing facilities having a discharge opening not greater than two inches in diameter and which do not provide domestic or irrigation water for an area in excess of one acre may pay a fixed amount as their replenishment assessment, in lieu of filing a sworn statement as to the production of ground water.

SEC. 2. Section 33 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 33. If said district has probable cause to believe that the production of water from any water producing facility is in excess of that disclosed by the sworn statements covering such water producing facility, or if no statements are filed covering any water producing facility, said district may cause an investigation and report to be made concerning the production of water from each such water producing facility. Said district may fix the amount of water production from any such water producing facility at an amount not to exceed the maximum production capacity of such water producing facility; provided, however, where a water measuring device is permanently attached thereto, the record of production as disclosed by such water measuring device shall be presumed to be accurate and the burden is upon said district to establish to the contrary.

After such determination has been made by said district, a written notice thereof shall be mailed to the person operating such water producing facility at his address as shown by the district's records. Any such determination made by said district shall be conclusive on all persons having an interest in such water producing facility and the replenishment assessment interest and penalties thereon, payable forthwith, unless such person files with the board of directors of said district within 10 days after the mailing of such notice a written protest setting forth the ground or grounds for protesting the amount of production so fixed. Upon the filing of such protest, said board of directors thereafter shall hold a hearing at which time the total amount of the water production and the replenishment assessment thereon shall be determined, which shall be conclusive if based upon substantial evidence. A notice of such hearing shall be mailed to protestant at least 10 days before the date fixed for the hearing. Notice of the determination by said board of directors shall be mailed to each protestant who shall have 20 days from the date of mailing to pay the replenishment assessment, interest or penalties [fixed by said board] provided by the provisions of this act.

Notice as required in this section shall be given by deposit thereof in any postal facility regularly maintained by the Government of the United States, in a sealed envelope with postage paid, addressed to the person on whom it is served at his name and address as disclosed by the records of said district. The service is complete at the time of deposit.

SEC. 3. Section 29.1 is added to said act, to read:

Sec. 29.1. Any person who, with or without intent to evade any provision or requirement of this act, makes, renders, signs, verifies or files with the district any false or fraudulent water production statement, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500) or imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed six (6) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 4. Section 35.1 is added to said act, to read:

SEC. 2. Section 4453 of said code is amended to read:

4453. In computing average annual earnings for the purposes of temporary disability indemnity only, the average weekly earnings shall be taken at not less than twenty-three dollars and eight cents ($23.08) nor more than [sixty-one dollars and fifty-four cents ($61.54)] seventy-three dollars and eight cents ($73.08). In computing average annual earnings for purposes of permanent disability indemnity, the average weekly earnings shall be taken at not less than twenty-three dollars and eight cents ($23.08) nor more than [fifty-three dollars and eighty-five cents ($53.85)] sixty-one dollars and fifty-four cents ($61.54). Between these limits the average weekly earnings, except as provided in Sections 4456 to 4459, shall be arrived at as follows:

(a) Where the employment is for 30 or more hours a week and for five or more working days a week, the average weekly earnings shall be 95 percent of the number of working days a week times the daily earnings at the time of the injury.

(b) Where the employee is working for two or more employers at or about the time of the injury, the average weekly earnings shall be taken as 95 percent of the aggregate of such earnings from all employments computed in terms of one week; but the earnings from employments other than the employment in which the injury occurred shall not be taken at a higher rate than the hourly rate paid at the time of the injury.

(c) If the earnings are at an irregular rate, such as piecework, or on a commission basis, or are specified to be by the week, month, or other period, then the average weekly earnings mentioned in subdivision (a) above shall be taken as 95 percent of the actual weekly earnings average for such period of time, not exceeding one year, as may conveniently be taken to determine an average weekly rate of pay.

(d) Where the employment is for less than 30 hours per week, or where for any reason the foregoing methods of arriving at the average weekly earnings cannot reasonably and fairly be applied, the average weekly earnings shall be taken at 95 percent of the sum which reasonably represents the average weekly earning capacity of the injured employee at the time of his injury, due consideration being given to his actual earnings from all sources and employments.

SEC. 3. Section 4455 of said code is amended to read:

4455. If the injured employee is under 21 years of age, and his incapacity is permanent, his average weekly earnings shall be deemed, within the limits fixed in Section 4453, to be the weekly sum which under ordinary circumstances he would probably be able to earn at the age of 21 years, in the occupation in which he was employed at the time of the injury or in any occupation to which he would reasonably have been promoted if he had not been injured. If such probable earnings at the age of 21 years cannot reasonably be determined, his average weekly earnings shall be taken as [fifty-three dollars and eighty-five cents ($53.85)] sixty-one dollars and fifty-four cents ($61.54).

SEC. 4. Section 4460 of said code is amended to read:

For the purpose of computing the permanent disability indemnity payable to any employee who sustains an original injury causing permanent disability, the maximum average weekly earnings shall be taken at [fifty-three dollars and eighty-five cents ($53.85)] sixty-one dollars and fifty-four cents ($61.54).

Every computation made pursuant to this section as last amended shall be made only with reference to temporary disability or such permanent disability resulting from an original injury sustained after the act last amending this section becomes effective; provided, however, that all rights presently existing under this section shall be continued in force.

SEC. 5. Section 4702 of said code is amended to read:

4702. Except as provided in the next paragraph, the death benefit in cases of total dependency, when added to all accrued disability indemnity, shall be the sum of [ten thousand dollars ($10,000)] twelve thousand dollars ($12,000) except in the case of a surviving widow and one or more dependent minor children, in which case the death benefit shall be increased 25 percent, but not to exceed [twelve thousand five hundred dollars ($12,500)] fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) and except as otherwise provided in Sections 4553 and 4554. In cases of partial dependency the death benefit shall be a sum equal to four times the amount annually devoted to the support of the dependents by the employee, not to exceed the sum of [ten thousand dollars ($10,000)] twelve thousand dollars ($12,000). The death benefits in all cases shall be paid in installments in the same manner and amounts as temporary disability indemnity, payments to be made at least twice each calendar month, unless the commission otherwise orders.

Disability indemnity shall not be deducted from the death benefit and shall be paid in addition to the death benefit when the original injury resulting in death occurs after the effective date of the amendment to this section adopted at the 1949 Regular Session of the Legislature.

Every computation made pursuant to this section shall be made only with reference to death resulting from an original injury sustained after this section as amended during the [1955] 1957 Regular Session of the Legislature becomes effective; provided, however, that all rights presently existing under this section shall be continued in force."

Senate Resolution No. 89

Relating to construction of federal-aid secondary highways

WHEREAS, That portion of the central San Joaquin Valley lying to the east of United States Highway 99 is an intensively cultivated agricultural area and contains numerous cities and other centers of population; and

WHEREAS, The population of that area has increased greatly in recent years and shows every indication of increasing still further in the immediate future; and

WHEREAS, This increase in population and intensification of agricultural activities have made intolerable existing highway facilities in that area; it is not served by any north-south federal or state highway; county highways available for traversing the area east of United States Highway 99 from Stockton to Fresno are wholly inadequate to the volume of traffic that would ordinarily travel that route; the alternative route requires traffic to move westward by county highways to United States Highway 99 which is the primary, and overburdened, north-south artery, and to re-enter the area by other county roads; amelioration of these conditions is essential to maintenance of the vast agricultural and related activities of the area and to accommodation of the further development that is steadily taking place in that area; and

WHEREAS, The Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1956 (70 Stat. 374; 23 U. C. S. 151) authorizes the allocation of federal funds to the several states to meet the cost of highway projects and specifically provides that 30 percent of the sums appropriated be expended for projects on the federal-aid secondary highway system; and

WHEREAS, The State of California has made provision for the matching of federal funds and has authorized action necessary to comply with the requirements of all federal laws, rules, and regulations (Secondary Highways Act of 1951; S. & H. C. 2200, et seq.); now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Senate of the State of California respectfully requests the Secretary of Commerce and the Federal Highway Administrator to investigate and approve the construction of a highway from the vicinity of the City of Stockton to the vicinity of the City of Fresno via a route lying to the east of United States Highway 99 and paralleling the route of the Santa Fe Railway, as a project on the federal-aid secondary highway system to be financed from moneys made available under the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1956; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be hereby directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the Secretary of Commerce, the Federal Highway Administrator, and to each Senator and Representative from California in the Congress of the United States.

Resolution read, and unanimously adopted on motion of Senator Donnelly.

Senate Resolution No. 91

Relative to augmenting the funds of the Senate Interim Committee on Governmental Organization

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That in addition to any money heretofore made available, the sum of three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby made available from the Contingent Fund of the Senate for the expenses of the Senate Interim Committee on Governmental Organization (created by Senate Resolution No. 133, 1955 Regular Session) and its members and for any charges, expenses, or claims it may incur under said resolution to be paid from the said contingent fund and disbursed, after certification by the chairman of the committee, upon warrants drawn by the State Controller upon the State Treasurer.

Senate Resolution No. 28

Relative to a study of the organization and administration of the Division of Beaches and Parks and the State Park System

WHEREAS, The California State Park System, from simple beginnings, has grown into a position of great importance within the State Government which importance is reflected in the millions of visitors who annually enjoy the natural grandeur and recreational benefits of the park system; and

WHEREAS, The investment of public money in the park system is now in the vicinity of fifty million dollars ($50,000,000) and is increasing with the result that the State Park Commission has become one of the largest owners of state property; and

WHEREAS, The management and administrative work load of the Division of Beaches and Parks should be analyzed to determine if improvements in organization and procedures should not be made in the light of its heavier responsibilities and better to cope with the recreational needs of the State's ever increasing population; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Director of the Department of Natural Resources and the Chief of the Division of Beaches and Parks, in consultation and cooperation with the Department of Finance and the Legislative Auditor, be directed to study jointly, possible needs for improvements in organization and procedures in the Division of Beaches and Parks and to give attention to the following matters, including but not limited to:

1. A clearer definition of the relationships between the Division of Beaches and Parks, the Department of Natural Resources, and the State Park Commission.

2. Reorganization and enlargement of the Division headquarters staff and improved liaison with the operating districts of the park system.
3. Greater decentralization of responsibility to the operating district level with respect to:
a. A possible increase in the number of such districts.
b. District responsibility with respect to equipment operation, construction activity, maintenance work, and administrative procedures.
4. The possible establishment of a priority pattern for park acquisition and development, at the district rather than at the state level, with available funds more adequately divided between acquisition and development projects within each district.
5. The development of district budgets for capital outlay and support items as a part of the consolidated total budget of Division of Beaches and Parks; and be it further

Resolved, That the Director of Natural Resources and the Chief of the Division of Beaches and Parks be directed to report their findings and recommendations to the Legislature not later than the fifth legislative day of the 1958 Budget Session; and be it further

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

THE SENATE, SACRAMENTO, March 15, 1957

Hon. Harold J. Powers, President and Members of the Senate

GENTLEMEN: Pursuant to Senate Resolution No. 160 of the 1955 General Session, your Interim Committee on Subdivision Development and Planning transmits herewith its report on its activities and conclusions.

Surveys have indicated that more new homes are likely to be built in the next quarter century than in any similar previous period. Postwar building has not satisfied the demand of our people for homes despite the fact that an average of 1,134,000 new homes a year were built between 1951 and 1955 in the United States. Approximately 20 percent of all such new homes in the United States were built right here in California.

Home building from 1951 to 1955 was some 30 percent higher than the average for the best five years in the 1920's which reached 872,000 in 1923-27. The annual average for the 10 postwar years 1946-1955 was 1,043,000 homes per year. This was 49 percent more than the average of 700,000 homes in the 1920's, the previous peak decade.

Our population is soaring to new heights as we approach the 14,000,000 mark. This means that every Monday morning about 1,000 new units of housing are needed in our State.

The impact of subdivision development upon the economic prosperity of our State is tremendous. Subdivision activity in the aggregate is a major industry. It creates jobs for laborers, skilled craftsmen, architects, engineers, etc. It stimulates the production, distribution and sale of all types of building materials. It causes increased activity in related consumer items such as home furnishings and appliances.

Subdivision development creates a chain reaction of economic causes and effects which reach clear to the top levels of our economic structure. Consequently, it is vitally important to our State that subdivision development prosper and that our governmental agencies and our private land developers achieve a unity of purpose and a degree of cooperation that will best serve the interests of our people and provide sound community development.

Your committee is indebted to the 94 members of our Advisory Committee who have given freely of their time, talent and vast experience to the work of your committee. The 94 members of our Advisory Committee represent every conceivable organization and public agency, federal, state and local, which have an interest in the subdivision field and each one of them is a leader in his particular phase of subdivision development.

As a result of intense study and considerable discussion of the many problems besetting subdivision development by our Advisory Committee in 1953 and 1954 recommendations to your body at the 1955 Regular Session fell into three categories: Legislative, administrative and educational.

The legislative recommendations were proposed to the Legislature at the 1955 Session in the form of bills amending the subdivision laws. We are happy to report that eight bills amending the Subdivision Map Act and the subdivision control sections of the Real Estate Law were unanimously passed by both houses and signed into law by the Governor. As a result of these legislative changes and the numerous improvements in processing of and procedures relating to subdivision recommended by our Advisory Committee and now becoming operative throughout the State, considerable improvement has been achieved. It was the feeling of our Advisory Committee that some time should be allowed to observe the effect of these new legislative enactments and administrative changes. Consequently your committee is not recommending any new legislation at this session.

In order to effectuate the administrative and educational recommendations of your committee, the preparation of a Subdivision Manual was undertaken in 1955 and 1956. It was felt that such a manual would be helpful in realizing higher standards and greater uniformity in the subdivision development field throughout the State of California. Its presentation will without a doubt result in better understanding and closer cooperation between all levels of government and our subdivision industry.

Your attention is directed to the outstanding work of the 94-man Advisory Committee in the preparation of the Subdivision Manual. After considerable discussion and deliberation, 18 chapters were suggested. The Advisory Committee immediately formed 18 subcommittees to undertake the preparation of such chapters. These subcommittees met as frequently as necessary in various parts of the State, at their own expense, and undertook the study, discussion, and completion of their respective chapters.

The completed chapters have been turned over to the staff of the Real Estate Research Program of the University of California for review and editing.

The Subdivision Manual will be of immeasurable help to the planning commissions, city councils, boards of supervisors and to the land developers. It is the voluntary work of the outstanding leaders from every segment of the subdivision industry and represents a broad point of view. They united in common effort—to build a better California.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR H. BREED, Jr., Chairman
LUTHER E. GIBSON, Vice Chairman

WHEREAS, Section 75 of said code provides, in part, that "Except as otherwise provided by law, the commission at any time and from time to time may: (a) Select, adopt, and determine the location for state highways on routes authorized by law."; and

WHEREAS, Section 111 of said code provides, in part, that "Whenever the natural course of a state highway passes into or through any city and a state highway route through or around such city is not specifically described by law, the commission shall determine the location of the connecting portion necessary to make the state highway continuous. Such location may be either through or around such city, depending upon the commission's determination as to which location will be of the greatest benefit to through traffic upon such state highway."; and

WHEREAS, Section 100.3 of said code provides, in part, that "From and after the adoption of a resolution by the California Highway Commission declaring any section of state highway to be a freeway, the highway described in such resolution shall have the status of a freeway * * *.", subject to acquisition of affected private property or private property rights; and

WHEREAS, In order that the commission may act in the best interest of the State in the selection and adoption of locations for state highways, or sections thereof, being considered for adoption and construction as freeways, it is required by the commission that it have before it all pertinent data relative thereto, including engineering and economic analyses respecting particular proposals; now, therefore be it

Resolved by the California Highway Commission, That the following procedure is hereby established for determination of the location or relocation of any state highway, or portion thereof, which is proposed to be constructed as a freeway on a location not then in use as a traversable state highway:

1. That, when sufficient engineering and economic data have been accumulated to support a tentative conclusion as to a basic plan for the location or relocation of any highway proposed to be constructed as a freeway, the State Highway Engineer, or his authorized representative or representatives, will confer with the appropriate city council or board of supervisors, or both such council and board, and with their technical staffs, including planning commissions and staffs, and will publicize and hold such meetings as may be reasonably necessary to acquaint interested individuals, officials and civic or other groups with the information developed.
2. After such conferences and meetings, the State Highway Engineer will submit a report to the commission covering the results of such conferences and meetings, the studies made, and a recommendation as to the location or relocation of the highway, or section of highway, proposed to be constructed as a freeway which in his judgment, subject to all laws applicable thereto, will serve the best interests of the State.

3. The State Highway Engineer, on authorization of the commission, will give public notice of the commission's intention to consider the adoption of the location or relocation of the highway, or section of highway, in question and will also give written notice to the city council or board of supervisors, or both, as the case may be, of such intention. Unless the local legislative body or bodies by resolution have previously declared that no public hearing by the commission is necessary or desirable, such notice to the local legislative body or bodies shall specify that if any such legislative body considers a public hearing on the matter necessary, the commission will hold, or cause to be held, such hearing, if so requested by any such local legislative body within thirty (30) days after the first regular meeting of such body following receipt of such written notice.
4. If any such legislative body requests such hearing, the commission, or designated members thereof, will hold, or cause to be held, a hearing, after due public notice of the time and place thereof, at which time and place all persons and organizations, and official bodies interested in the matter will be given opportunity to be heard.
5. The commission may, on its own motion, call a public meeting or hold such hearings, or rehearings, as it may deem appropriate.
6. After the expiration of such period of thirty (30) days, if no hearing is requested, or after such hearing, or after such hearing as the commission may hold on its own initiative, the commission will take action in respect to the location or relocation of such highway proposed to be constructed as a freeway.
7. The authorization referred to in numbered paragraph 3 of this resolution, to give public notice of the commission's intention to hold a hearing, shall be by resolution of the commission relating to each specific location or relocation of the highway proposed to be considered. In all other respects, this resolution authorizes the State Highway Engineer, without further resolution or order of this commission, to do such things and take such action as may appear to him to be necessary or proper to comply with the above specified procedure and to comply with the herein announced purpose of the commission to inform the interested individuals and officials as to the nature of and the reasons for the particular proposal.
8. The resolutions of the commission regarding the subject matter hereof, adopted on July 15, 1948, and on July 23, 1953, are hereby rescinded.

This resolution is hereby adopted by the California Highway Commission at Sacramento, California, this eighteenth day of February, 1955.

ENGINEERING STANDARDS AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR COUNTY ROAD AND CITY STREET DEFICIENCY SURVEYS

California Legislature

JOINT INTERIM COMMITTEE ON TRANSPORTATION PROBLEMS

(Created by S.C.R. 74)

RANDOLPH COLLIER, Chairman

26 September 1956

The Joint Interim Committee on Transportation Problems is making an impartial survey of the critical deficiencies on city streets in all cities in California and requests your cooperation in providing the necessary information on the critical deficiencies on your street system in order that this study may be complete, uniform and consistent for all cities. The League of California Cities has assured this committee of its cooperation and has appointed an advisory committee composed of city officials of recognized professional standing to assist the Joint Interim Committee on Transportation Problems in this survey.

Since it is desirable that the Legislature have current information on the extent and nature of city street deficiencies, the purpose of this survey is to obtain accurate information from all cities on

(a) The specific city streets that were critically deficient as of October 1, 1956.

(b) The estimated construction cost required to correct each critically deficient street.

WHAT IS A CRITICALLY DEFICIENT STREET?

For this survey, a critically deficient street is a street that is inadequate for existing needs, as of October 1, 1956, based upon the best judgment of the city official responsible for such determination. City street needs based on planning for the future or those needs pertaining to bringing all city streets up to specific standards are not a part of this study and should not be included in your report to this committee. However, in those instances when it is not possible to improve a particular deficient city street and the only reasonable solution is to construct a new street at a new location, the total cost of the new street may be included.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR SURVEY OF CITY STREET NEEDS

The following instructions have been prepared to establish the base required to obtain city street information on a uniform basis from each city. The members of the advisory committee of city officials appointed by the League of California Cities have participated in the development of both the instructions and the attached questionnaire used in this survey.

PART I. INVENTORY OF THE CITY STREET SYSTEM

(Table I)

The Joint Interim Committee on Transportation Problems requests that each city submit a complete inventory of its street system. This inventory is to be prepared in accordance with the following instructions and is to be submitted on Table I, Inventory and Description of the Entire Existing City Street System, of the attached questionnaire. List the total mileage for each street classification as a single figure. Street classifications are defined as follows:

1. State Highways. Include all highways within the city which are designated as state highways.
2. City-constructed Freeways. Include all freeways, other than state highways, within the city which were or are being constructed and maintained by the city.

   Only true freeways should be included in this classification. A true freeway is defined as follows: Centrally divided trafficways located and designed for the continuous movement of the heaviest volumes of all types of comparatively long-distance, inter-community, vehicular traffic free from the conflicts imposed by:
   a. Intersecting flows of traffic and traffic signals;
   b. Traffic stopping or parking on the roadway;
   c. Traffic gaining access to or egress from abutting property, except by way of specially constructed acceleration or deceleration lanes;
   d. Left turn movements across opposing traffic flows;
   e. Pedestrians.
3. Primary Arterials. Include all surfaced streets within the city, with the exception of state highways and city-constructed freeways which, by local definition, are streets of primary importance that are used for the continuous movement of heavy volumes of all types of vehicular traffic. These streets may or may not include the State Division of Highways gas tax certified major city streets.

   Primary arterials should perform at least one, and preferably several, of the following functions:
   a. Connect and supplement the state highways and county primary road system.
   b. Connect major population centers within the city or adjacent territory.
   c. Have outstanding scenic value or provide access to popular resort areas.
   d. Have sufficiently high present traffic count to warrant its recognition as a high priority, through route.
   e. Primary arterial mileage should not exceed 20 percent of the total city street system, except under unusual circumstances, such as strip development.
4. Secondary Arterials. Include all surfaced streets within the city which by local definition are quite heavily travelled connecting routes and which supplement the primary arterial system. They should not include streets which are for limited local use or which are not acceptable to the city for maintenance. Secondary arterial mileage should not exceed 30 percent of the total city street system.
5. All Other City Streets. Include all dedicated streeets not listed in the above classifications. Information should be provided on a separate basis for "improved" and "unimproved" streets in this classification.

Under "mileage" list miles of streeets in each classification in miles, or portion thereof.

Under "width of usable roadway" record the existing minimum surfaced roadway width of the narrowest street listed and the maximum surfaced roadway width of the widest street listed in each classification of the city street system.

Under "width of right of way" record the existing minimum right of way width of the narrowest street listed and the maximum right of way width of the widest street listed in each classification of the city street system.

In order that the extensive work on this survey may be completed prior to the next session of the Legislature, you are requested to submit two (2) copies of Table I, on or before November 15, 1956, to the Joint Interim Committee on Transportation Problems, Room 3061, State Capitol, Sacramento 14, California.

PART II. INVENTORY OF CITY STREET CRITICAL DEFICIENCIES

1. Determination of Critical Deficiencies of City Streets

All city street critical deficiencies reported to the Joint Interim Committee on Transportation Problems are to be based upon the best judgment of the city official(s) responsible for determining city street needs in your city and in accordance with the instructions of this committee. To be considered critically deficient, a street, bridge, culvert, or railway grade separation must be inadequate for existing needs as of October 1, 1956, in accordance with the "Why Deficient" code definitions contained in the questionnaire.

Other guides are given under specific table headings, but these are indications only to help in determining a critical deficiency. The decision as to just what is critically deficient is to be based on local judgment.

City street needs based on planning for the future or those needs pertaining to bringing all city streets up to specific standards are not a part of this study and should not be included in your report. The purpose of this study is to identify the critical deficiencies on each city street system and to obtain an estimate of the cost required to build such critically deficient city streets up to adequate standards. In considering deficiencies, take into account structural soundness, traffic capacity and traffic safety.

In completing this questionnaire, it is first necessary to determine what portions of the three classifications of city streets (primary arterials, secondary arterials, and all other city streets) are critically deficient, then list what you would do to improve these streets so that they would adequately fulfill the needs for which they are intended.

2. Standards

When it has been determined that a critical deficiency exists, the next step will be to list the required improvements. In order to establish design standards, so that all cities will report on a uniform basis, the attached "Recommended Minimum Design Standards" should be used for reference when considering primary and secondary arterials and also for "All Other City Streets."

In determining when the number of traffic lanes should be increased, refer to the attached table of "Average Daily Traffic Capacity—Both Directions."

These standards should be considered as guides only in determining the desirable improvements after a street has been determined to be critically deficient.

These advisory standards are found on pages 4 and 5, respectively.

RECOMMENDED MINIMUM DESIGN STANDARDS

(1) Street widths shall be of width curb-to-curb as follows:

A. Primary arterial—4-lane ..... 64′ minimum
B. Primary arterial—2-lane ..... 40′ minimum
C. Secondary arterial ..... 40′ minimum
D. All other city streets ..... 40′ minimum

(2) Design of Paving for Streets. All street paving sections shall be designed by either the California Bearing Ratio Method or by the Hveem Stabilometer Method; except that such design shall not be less than the following minimums, or their equivalents:

(A) Primary arterials (four moving lanes) of character intended under 1-A:

6″ compaction of native material to California State Highway test at 90 percent minimum relative value.
12″ crusher run base—State of California specifications.
3″ dense graded plant mixed surfacing.

(B) Primary arterials (two moving lanes) and secondary arterials having bus routes. Streets are of character listed under 1-B and 1-C:

6″ compaction of native material to California State Highway test at 90 percent minimum relative value.
8″ crusher run base—State of California specifications.
2″ dense grade plant mixed surfacing or equal.

(C) Secondary arterials having no bus routes and are as specified under 1-C:

6″ compaction of native material to California State Highway test with 90 percent minimum relative value.
6″ crusher run base—State of California specifications.
2″ dense graded plant mix surfacing or equal.

(D) All other city streets: based on local standards or requirements.

(3) Bridge Design Standards. Minimum, H-15; Desirable, H-20.

This table refers to signalized intersections only. It is assumed that if there are no signals, the street is of adequate capacity, i.e., the street is capable of carrying vehicles at reasonable speeds without undue congestion. The term "percent green" refers to the percentage of the green, yellow, and red signaling cycle time during which the signal is green on the street under consideration.

3. Instructions for Reporting of Critical Deficiencies on the Questionnaire

Table II. Primary Arterials

This table should show only the inventory of critical deficiencies on primary arterials as of October 1, 1956.

Column (A)—Identification: street and limits:

List the name of each street which is considered to be critically deficient and the names of the cross streets where this deficiency begins and ends; for example, "Broadway, between 1st St. and 15th St."

Column (B)—Deficient miles:

List in miles and hundredths of miles the length of the deficient portion of the street being considered.

Column (C)—Estimated average traffic count:

List the estimated traffic count of present day traffic.

Column (D)—Existing width: right of way, curb to curb:

List existing right-of-way widths and curb-to-curb widths of deficient streets. If there are no existing curbs give actual travel-way widths.

Column (E)—"Why deficient": code number or numbers:

Show by means of the code numbers listed at the bottom of the page the reason for considering the street to be deficient. This may include one or several of the deficiencies listed.

Column (F)—Description of improvement required to correct deficiency:

Describe in words what you feel is necessary to correct the deficiency. As an example: "Rebuild and widen to 40′ between curbs; 2″ PMS *, 8″ CRB †. Install curbs and gutters." Describe any unusual features in a footnote.

* Plant-mix surface
† Crusher-run base

Column (G)—Estimated cost of rights of way:

Report the estimated cost of rights of way required for the correction of critical deficiency. Do not include this cost in the estimated construction costs.

Column (H)—Estimated construction costs:

In the estimate of construction costs include the cost of roadbed construction, surfacing, curbs and gutters, drainage structures, safety lighting, and traffic signals.

In reference to safety lighting, consider only such lighting as is approved for gas tax funds expenditure; i.e., "such illumination of streets, roads, highways and bridges which in the judgment of the body authorized to expend such funds is required for the safety of persons using the said streets, roads, highways and bridges." (Section 27e, Streets and Highways Code.)

Table III. Primary Bridges and Culverts

This table is similar to that of Table II, the main difference being in the "why deficient" code numbers. Include only the critical deficiencies, as of October 1, 1956, of bridges and culverts which are of major importance and which are on the primary arterial system.

Column (B)—Width and length of deficient structure:
List curb-to-curb width of bridges and maximum free opening width or inside diameter of culverts. Culvert width is measured parallel to the street while culvert length is measured perpendicular to the street.

Column (C)—Type of structure:
List whether the structure is a bridge or a culvert and whether it is timber, concrete or steel.

Column (E)—Existing roadway width:
List curb-to-curb width. If curbs are not in, give travel-way width of street.

Column (G)—Improvement required to correct deficiency:
An example of the improvement required to correct the deficiency would be: "Replace timber bridge with steel bridge," and describe unusual features.

Table IV. Primary Railway Grade Separations

This table should show only the critical deficiencies as of October 1, 1956, which exist at railway crossings on the primary arterial system.

As basic guides for determining the need for railway grade separation structures, one or both of the following criteria may be used:

a. When the average daily traffic times the number of trains exceeds 80,000 with at least eight trains per day.

b. When there has been more than one (1) accident per year during each of the last five (5) years in which a train and a motor vehicle have been involved.

It is emphasized that these guides are starting points only and the final judgment on need for separation in each case should take into consideration the character of route, location, economic feasibility, and cost.

Column (C)—Estimated average traffic count:
Under "Train movement count," distinguish between freight and passenger train movements.

Column (D)—Existing roadway width:
List travel-way or curb-to-curb street width when no separation exists. If there is a deficient existing separation structure, list the curb-to-curb width of the structure.

Where no grade separation structure exists, and one is needed, list "Why deficient" code number 1 under column (E), and under column (F) the proposed structure required to correct the deficiency.

Table V. Secondary Arterials

This table follows the form of Table I but should include only to the critical deficiencies as of October 1, 1956, of the secondary arterial system.

Table VI. Secondary Bridges and Culverts

This table follows the form of Table III, but should include only the critical deficiencies, as of October 1, 1956, of the bridges and culverts which are part of the secondary arterial system.

Table VII. Secondary Railway Grade Separations

This table follows the form of Table IV but should include only the critical deficiencies, as of October 1, 1956, which exist at railway crossings on the secondary arterial system.

Table VIII. All Other City Streets

This table follows the form of Table II, but should include only the critical deficiencies, as of October 1, 1956, which exist on city streets other than primary or secondary arterials.

A critical deficiency exists when, in the judgment of the local officials, the street is wholly inadequate to serve the purpose for which it is intended. Lack of width alone does not necessarily create a critical deficiency on this type of street.

Exhibit "A"

The map should be prepared in accordance with the regular method or procedure used in each city. The scale to be used will be determined by the city officials under whose supervision city maps are prepared. Only one map need be submitted.

Submit two (2) copies of the city street critical deficiency report for your city, not later than December 1, 1956, to the Joint Interim Committee on Transportation Problems, Room 3061, State Capitol, Sacramento 14, California. The critical deficiency report includes Tables II, III, IV, V, VI, VII, VIII, IX, and the map of the city street system. Please note that Table I is to be submitted not later than November 15, 1956. Because of the extensive nature of this survey, this committee is interested in knowing the total cost of this survey. Therefore, we request that each city keep a record of the costs required in preparing this report and submit that information to this committee. In addition to the information on the critical deficiencies on the city street system, you are requested to submit the average annual maintenance cost per mile of city street for each of the last five fiscal years.

(A) Delineate in green color the State Highway System within the city.

(B) Delineate in yellow color any city-constructed freeways.

(C) Delineate in red color the city primary arterials. Use a solid red line for critically deficient portions and a broken red line for the remainder of the primary arterial system.

California Legislature

JOINT INTERIM COMMITTEE ON TRANSPORTATION PROBLEMS

(Created by S. C. R. 74)

RANDOLPH COLLIER, Chairman

25 September 1956

In order that the Legislature may have current information on the extent and nature of critical deficiencies on the county road system, the Joint Interim Committee on Transportation Problems requests your assistance in compiling a current report on the critical deficiencies existing as of October 1, 1956. It is recommended that each county road commissioner review his copy of the 1954 report of critical deficiencies and make such additions and deletions as may be required to bring that report to current status as of October 1, 1956.

The Board of Directors of the County Supervisors Association has assured this committee of the support, cooperation and active participation of the association and the respective organizations in this review of county road deficiencies. The County Supervisors Association has appointed an advisory committee of county road commissioners to provide technical advice and counsel, on behalf of the counties, to the Joint Interim Committee on Transportation Problems. This advisory committee of county road commissioners will provide valuable assistance and guidance during this survey.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

Reports on county road deficiencies are to be prepared in accordance with the following instructions in order that a uniform report for all counties may be submitted to the Legislature.

(1) Each county road commissioner is requested to prepare and submit a report on the county road critical deficiencies in his county to the Joint Interim Committee on Transportation Problems, Room 3061, State Capitol, Sacramento 14, California, not later than November 15, 1956.

(2) Inventory of the County Road System as of October, 1956:
On Table I, Inventory of the County Road System, under Primary Road System—Federal Aid Secondary Roads, describe the characteristics of the county F.A.S. system as outlined in the table. The remaining county primary roads are to be described under B, Other Primary Roads.

(3) Critical Deficiencies on the County Road System:
Roads, bridges and grade separation eligible to be included in county road system deficiency reports are only those county roads, bridges and grade separations determined by the county road commissioner to be critically deficient and inadequate for existing needs as of October, 1956, in accordance with the "Why deficient" code definitions contained in the attached report forms.

(4) Elimination of Advance Planning:
County road needs based on planning for the future or those needs pertaining to bringing all county roads up to specific standards are not a part of this study and should not be included in your report to this committee.

(5) Traffic Counts:
The inclusion of traffic count estimates on critically deficient roads, bridges and grade separations is necessary to justify their inclusion as deficiency items.

(6) Elimination of Width as a Deficiency Factor for Certain Roads and Bridges:
Roads. A single lane county road, with adequate turnouts, having a traffic count of less than fifty (50) motor vehicles per day should not be considered deficient due to inadequate width, regardless of terrain, unless justified in writing because of the existence of one or more of the following traffic characteristics:

(a) Truck route.
(b) School bus route
(c) Rural free delivery route
(d) Recreational route with heavy weekend traffic

Bridges. A single lane county bridge of 13′ clear width having a traffic county of less than fifty (50) motor vehicles per day should not be considered deficient due to inadequate width unless justified in writing because of the existence of one or more of the following traffic characteristics:

(a) Truck route
(b) School bus route
(c) Rural free delivery route
(d) Recreational route with heavy weekend traffic

(7) Determination of Critically Deficient Railway Grade Separations:

The following instructions apply to the inclusion of railway grade separation critical deficiencies on Table V, Primary Railway Grade Separations and Table VIII, Secondary Railway Grade Separations.

As basic guides for determining the need for railway grade separation structures, one or both of the following criteria may be used:

(a) When the average daily traffic times the number of trains exceeds 80,000 with at least eight trains per day.
(b) When there has been more than one (1) accident per year during each of the last five (5) years in which a train and a motor vehicle have been involved.

It is emphasized that these guides are starting points only and the final judgment on need for separation in each case should take into consideration the character of route, location, economic feasibility, and cost.

Column (C)—Estimated average traffic count:
Under "Train movement count," distinguished between freight and passenger train movements.

Column (D)—Existing roadway width:
List travel-way width when no separation structure exists. If there is a deficient existing separation structure, list the travel-way width of the structure.

Where no grade separation structure exists, and one is needed, list "Why deficient" code number 1 under column (E), and under column (F) the proposed structure required to correct the deficiency.

(8) Use of Tolerable Improvement Standards:

In order that this review of deficient county roads and bridges may provide an equitable and uniform base for the improvement of such roads and bridges in all counties, the Advisory Committee has recommended the use of the following tolerable improvement standards. These standards should be considered as guides only in determining the desirable improvements after a road or bridge has been determined to be critically deficient.

TOLERABLE IMPROVEMENT STANDARDS

(a) On roads carrying less than one hundred motor vehicles per day, the minimum width standard, regardless of terrain, should be as follows: minimum roadbed 20', improved surface 16', shoulders 4'. Maximum 24' roadbed, improved surface 20', shoulders 4'.

(b) Minimum and desirable road width standards:

	M D	M D	M D	M D	M D
Traffic count	100-400	400-1,000	1,000-4,000	4,000-5,000	over 5,000
Rights of way	40'-60'	60'-80'	60'-80'	80'-100'	80'-100'
Roadbed
Flat	30'-34'	32'-38'	38'-40'	38'-40'	70' up
Rolling	26'-30'	28'-32'	36'-40'	36'-40'	64'-70'
Mountainous	26'-30'	28'-32'	32'-36'	32'-36'	60'-66'
Surface	22'-24'	22'-24'	24'-__	24'-__	44'-48'

Thickness (base and surface)—Include in description of proposed improvement. Design based on character of traffic and soil.

NOTE: The above standards are not recommended for use in unincorporated urban areas.

(c) Minimum and desirable bridge width and design standards:

	M D	M D	M D	M D	M D	M D
Traffic count	0-100	100-400	400-1,000	1,000-4,000	4,000-5,000	over 5,000
Clear width	20'-26'	26'-26'	26'-28'	28'-__	28'-__	48'-52'
Design load	H-15	H-15	H-15	--'--	--'--	'—

(d) On all deficient roads having a capacity in excess of 1,000 vehicles per day, use State of California, Division of Highways construction standards in determining the necessary improvement.

RECOMMENDED MINIMUM DESIGN STANDARDS FOR ROADS AND STREETS IN UNINCORPORATED URBAN AREAS

(1) Street widths shall be of width curb-to-curb as follows:

A. Primary arterial—4-lane ..... 64' minimum
B. Primary arterial—2-lane ..... 40' minimum
C. Secondary arterial ..... 36' minimum
D. All other city streets ..... 30' minimum

(2) Design of Paving for Streets. All street paving sections shall be designed by either the California Bearing Ratio Method or by the Hveen Stabilometer Method; except that such design shall not be less than the following minimums, or their equivalents:

(A) Primary arterials (4 moving lanes) of character intended under 1-A:

6" compaction of native material to California State Highway test at 90 percent minimum relative value.

12" crusher run base—State of California specifications.

3" dense graded plant mixed surfacing.

(B) Primary arterials (2 moving lanes) and secondary arterials having bus routes. Streets are of character listed under 1-B and 1-C:
6″ compaction of native material to California State Highway test at 90 percent minimum relative value.
8″ crusher run base—State of California specifications.
2″ dense grade plant mixed surfacing or equal.

(C) Secondary arterials having no bus routes and are as specified under 1-C:
6″ compaction of native material to California State Highway test with 90 percent minimum relative value.

(D) All other city streets:
Based on local standards or requirements.

(3) Bridge Design Standards:
Minimum, H-15; desirable, H-20.

(4) The description of proposed improvement for critically deficient county roads which connect with city streets should be based upon design and construction standards which will provide an adequate and coordinated traffic facility for at least five years with a minimum of maintenance.

This table refers to signalized intersections only. It is assumed that if there are no signals, the street is of adequate capacity, i.e., the street is capable of carrying vehicles at reasonable speeds without undue congestion. The term "percent green" refers to the percentage of the green, yellow, and red signaling cycle time during which the signal is green on the street under consideration.

There exists a critical shortage of water supplies on the west side of the San Joaquin Valley in Merced, Fresno and Kings Counties and in portions of Kern County in the southern part of the same valley. Existing use of water in these areas is largely dependent upon ground water supplies which are being overdrawn at a rate dangerous to the economic welfare and public safety of the people of the affected areas. In order to provide supplemental water supplies to these critical areas, it is necessary that joint-use San Luis Project facilities be constructed as soon as possible. The appropriation in this act, to permit a monetary advance by the State to the United States for the designs and specifications of San Luis joint-use facilities, will expedite progress on the project and could advance the completion date of the project by at least a year. "SECTION 1. To effectuate the social public policy of this State to create and enforce a complete system of workmen's compensation as declared in Section 21 of Article 20 of the Constitution of California, and to maintain the integrity of such system, the Legislature always has subjected workmen's compensation insurance to detailed regulation different from that provided for any other class of insurance. In so doing it has protected the solvency of insurers, benefited injured workers and their dependents, and enabled employers to obtain workmen's compensation protection at the lowest cost consistent with solvency of insurers. With a view to the preservation of California's unique and successful system of workmen's compensation insurance, it is necessary to declare the legislative intent to prohibit inclusion in the classification of risks and premium rates or in merit rating of: (1) any extra charge against small employers of this State, (2) any interference with freedom of contract between insurers and licensed insurance agents and brokers with respect to commissions, and (3) any combination of California workmen's compensation insurance premiums or experience of a particular insured with his premiums or experience in any other class of insurance or in any other jurisdiction.

SEC. 2. Section 11730 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

11730. The term "merit rating", as used in this article, [includes] means "schedule rating", in which the rate is varied according to physical conditions, and also [includes] means "experience rating", in which the California workmen's compensation insurance experience of the particular insured is used as a factor in raising or lowering his rate.

Unless a different meaning is manifest, the term "workmen's compensation insurance", as used in this article, also means employer's liability insurance incidental to and written in connection with workmen's compensation insurance.

SEC. 3. Section 11730x of the Insurance Code is repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 11732.2 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

11732.2. WHEREAS, The erection of the said fence along the right of way of Route 1 prevents access from said highway to Freshwater Lagoon upon and over the road hereinafter mentioned; and

WHEREAS, The Division of Highways for a period of the last five years has made no effort to discourage or prevent the general public from using that certain access road to that certain boat landing area located at the northerly end of said lagoon and immediately to the east of said state highway right of way, leading from and to said State Highway Route 1; and

WHEREAS, Said general public has developed said area into a well-known freshwater recreational facility by the use thereof for water skiing, outboard racing and related sports in reliance upon said lack of interference, and has been led to believe by said Division of Highways that no interference would be forthcoming, and have made extensive plans for the continued use thereof as an outstanding recreational area; and

[At the first regular meeting of the board, following the expiration of the time allotted for publication of the approved amendments, the board by resolution, shall declare the amended rules to be in effect and have the force of law.] The board may thereafter, at a regular meeting, declare the amendments in effect, and they shall remain in effect unless a petition by not less than 25 timber owners in the applicable district is filed with the board within 30 days following such declaration by the board; and in that event the amendments shall be submitted to the timber owners in the applicable district for approval under the procedure provided in Section 4942 without additional publication.

SEC. 18. Section 4951 of said code is amended to read:

4951. Expenses incurred in the administration of [the provisions of Chapter 10 of Division 4 of the Public Resources Code] this chapter shall be paid from the support appropriation of the Division of Forestry.

SEC. 20. Section 4953 is added to said code, to read:

4953. Rules, plans and amendments, once approved, are prima facie presumed valid, are special provisions for, and exclusively regulate timber operations. Rules, plans and amendments previously approved and now in effect are hereby validated, confirmed, and continued in effect until amended, modified or repealed in the manner herein provided.

The board may revoke or repeal rules and amendments thereto with the consent of the Forest Practice Committee of the applicable district. The board may revoke forest management plans or alternate plans with the consent of the Forest Practice Committee of the district and the timber owner or timber operator whose operations and practices are being conducted under such plans. Upon certification by the State Forester that such timber owner or operator cannot be found the Board with the consent of the applicable Forest Practice Committee may revoke such plans.

SEC. 21. Article 4 of Chapter 10 of Division 4 of said code (commencing with Section 4961) is repealed.

SEC. 22. Article 4 (commencing with Section 4961) is added to Chapter 10 of Division 4 of said code, to read:

Article 4. Permits

4961. Any person who engages in timber operations or conspires with another to engage in timber operations, as defined in this chapter, without a valid permit to do so from the State Forester is guilty of a misdemeanor.

4962. All timber owners upon whose holdings timber operations are proposed, shall notify the State Forester of the proposed timber operations and their location. In the notice, the timber owner shall state the name and address of the timber operator who will engage in the timber operation. The location of the proposed timber operations shall be given by a legal subdivision description or in such a manner as to enable the State Forester to locate it on the ground.

4963. Every timber operator shall apply to the State Forester for a permit to engage in timber operations. The application shall contain information as to identity of applicant, location of timber operations within this State during the immediate past year and proposed timber operations, name and address of the timber owner, name and address of applicant's principal officer on whom notice may be served if a corporation or a partnership, and authorization from the applicant permitting the State Forester or his agent to enter and inspect such operations. The State Forester may require an applicant not resident in this State to designate a resident agent for service of notices and papers. Timber operations not contemplated in such application shall not be undertaken without prior additional notice to the State Forester. The location of the timber operations shall be given by a legal subdivision description or in such a manner as to enable the State Forester to locate it on the ground.

4964. Upon receipt of such application the State Forester shall issue a permit, but the State Forester may deny a permit for some, any, or all of the following reasons, but not for acts or omissions prior to the effective date of this act:

(a) Where the applicant is not the real person in interest;

(b) Material misrepresentation or false statement in the application;

(c) Conviction within one year of the application of unlawfully operating without a permit.

4965. Within 30 days after receipt of notice of denial, sent by the State Forester by registered or certified mail to the applicant's last address of record, the applicant may file with the State Forester a request for statement of issues, but such request shall not be deemed an answer to the statement of issues, a request for a hearing, or a notice of defense. Unless within 30 days after the timely filing of such request the State Forester files a statement of issues thereon with the director, the permit shall be granted.

4966. When a statement of issues has been so filed, the director may order denial pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act. Reapplication may be made after 60 days from date of denial.

4967. The holder of a permit shall annually within the month of January file with the State Forester an annual notice of timber operations. Such notice shall contain information as to the location of proposed timber operations in the current calendar year, and shall contain such other information as in an original application. Where timber operations for the current calendar year are not known or are not contemplated, the annual notice shall be, nevertheless, given and so state. Timber operations not contemplated in the annual notice shall not be undertaken without prior additional notice to the State Forester.

4968. A permit is subject to future legislation. It is not transferable. It may be deemed expired if annual notice of operations is not timely filed and if the State Forester has sent to the permittee notice of such expiration and filed in his office proof thereof by affidavit of service by ordinary mail. The permit, or a copy thereof, shall be available for inspection at all times in the area in which operations are being conducted. Timber operator's permits previously issued and now in effect are continued in effect and continue to be, and are, subject to revocation or suspension for acts and omissions prior to the effective date of this act as though the act had not been passed as well as for acts and omissions after the effective date of this act as in the case of new permits issued hereunder, but shall expire at the end of the current calendar year, after which the holder may apply for a new permit under this chapter; provided, however, that within six months after the issuance of such new permit, such new permit may be suspended or revoked not only for those acts and omissions after the effective date of this act which would have been ground for suspension or revocation of the continued permit if it had not expired but also for those acts and omissions which are under this chapter ground for suspension or revocation of a permit; and provided, further, that after said six months such new permit may be suspended or revoked as other permits.

4969. A permit may be suspended or revoked by the director pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act for some, any, or all of the following reasons:

(a) Failure or refusal to comply with the forest practice rules.
(b) Failure or refusal to comply with an applicable forest management plan.
(c) Failure or refusal to comply with an applicable alternate plan.
(d) Material misrepresentation or false statement in the application.
(e) Material misrepresentation or false statement in any required notice.
(f) Where the applicant is not the real person in interest.
(g) Failure or refusal to file the annual notice of operations or other notices required under this chapter.
(h) Refusal to allow inspection by the State Forester.

4970. The director may not, except as otherwise provided in Section 4968, suspend or revoke for acts or omissions committed prior to this act or more than three years prior to filing, except where there has been material misrepresentation or false statement in an application or where the applicant is not the real person in interest.

4971. A proceeding to suspend or revoke for failure or refusal to comply with forest practice rules, with a forest management plan, or with an alernate plan may not be commenced unless prior to filing the permittee has been given notice in writing by registered or certified mail to his last address of record, such notice to state in what respects he has not complied, and unless the permittee has been given a reasonable time to comply.

4972. An order of suspension or revocation is final when made. Suspension may not exceed one year from date of order. After one year from date of revocation, unless sooner remitted as in this section provided, an application may be made for a new permit. On petition of respondent once within one year after date of suspension or revocation and on showing of change of conditions which led to suspension or revocation, the director may remit all, or any part of, the unexecuted portion of the penalty."

Assembly Bill No. 1182, "An act to maintain the Revenue and Taxation Code by amending Sections 2505, 2506, 2509, 2510, 2851, 2949, 3450, 3729, 5011, 5099, 8352, 9603, 9603.5, 16507 and 32173, and by amending and renumbering Sections 162, 163 and 1882.5 thereof, by adding Section 9603.3 thereto, and by repealing Sections 159, 4989, 5097.3, 5097.4, 5140, and 6403 and Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 28001) of Part 12, Division 2, of said code, relating to taxation and the raising of revenue, and making an appropriation,"

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, April 9, 1957

To the Honorable Members of the Senate and Assembly of the State of California:

As we approach the midway mark in the 1957 Session of the Legislature, I have been giving much study to the progress we are making toward solution of one of the most difficult and vital problems ever to confront the people of California and their elected officials. I speak of the positive steps which we must take toward solving our state-wide water problems.

Considering the number and complexity of these problems, we are making gratifying progress in the thorough study and interchange of thinking which is essential to the decisions ahead of us in the remaining weeks of this session. We are to the point where some of these decisions must be made.

Saturday afternoon I met briefly with the Governor's Water Lawyers' Committee, which is studying all of the constitutional amendment proposals pertaining to water rights in an effort to evolve a recommendation which will meet the needs of and be acceptable to all parts of California.

I am greatly encouraged by the progress which has been made by this committee.

There is agreement among the members of the committee, as there is among virtually all groups and individuals interested in California's water development, that one of the first steps which should be taken by the State is the establishment of a Water Development Fund. This can and should be done now.

Immediate creation of a Water Development Fund by statute would not in any way interfere with the inclusion of such a provision in the constitutional amendment now under consideration.

In my message to the Legislature on January 7th, I urged that such a fund be established, adequately supported by a long-range financing program. This fund should be utilized to implement state participation in water development, both in the construction of projects by the State and in financial participation in projects of federal and local agencies.

Such a fund is essential for achievement of the necessary objectives of water development in California, and as such is of prime importance to every section of the State and to every interested group. There remain unanswered at this date many questions as to details of our water program, but one point is crystal clear: We must develop our water resources to serve the ever-growing needs of the people of California. As we reach decisions on details of the program, the money must be available to implement those decisions. There are several sources of revenue which can be utilized to create and augment a Water Development Fund, and I urge in the strongest possible terms that we act now to commit these revenues in order that the future of California will not be stifled.

In my January 7th message, I recommended that the presently uncommitted tidelands oil funds and income from that source through Fiscal Year 1957-58 be used initially to establish this fund. I also recommended that regular, annual appropriations from the general revenues of the State, consistent with other demands on the General Fund, be devoted to water development.

I now specifically recommend that the following moneys be placed in the Water Development Fund, and I have asked the Department of Finance to prepare appropriate amendments to measures now pending to create such a fund.

(1) Uncommitted tidelands oil revenues as described above, and income from this source through July 1, 1958. These will amount to approximately $101,000,000 after deducting the $38,000,000 appropriation now pending for continuation of the preparatory work at the Oroville Dam and reservoir site.

(2) Future revenues from tidelands oil lands in excess of $10,000,000 per year.

(3) The $75,000,000 now in the Revenue Deficiency Reserve Fund ("rainy day" fund), in the State Treasury.

(4) Moneys from the General Fund in amounts to be determined by the Legislature.

(5) Such moneys in other funds as may be determined by the Legislature to be available for this purpose.

(6) Net revenues derived from water projects operated by the State.

(7) Proceeds from any bond issues that may be voted and sold in the future for construction of the Feather River Project and of other elements of The California Water Plan as they are authorized, and for financial participation in projects of the Federal Government and local agencies.

(8) Interest derived from the investment of moneys held in the Water Development Fund.

With an anticipated federal appropriation of at least $75,000,000 for flood control benefits at Oroville Dam, we should be able to count on a minimum of $250,000,000 in such a fund. This will make available money for the projects which are necessary now and in the immediate future, and for further water development projects as needed and justified in all areas of the State, in conformity with the objectives of The California Water Plan. From this fund, the Legislature would make appropriations for specific projects.

While a bond issue will undoubtedly be necessary in order to meet the schedule of needs of California in water development, we must, insofar as possible, use existing funds and present sources of revenue to finance this program. To the extent that we do this, we avoid payment of heavy interest charges which, on long-term bond issues, may nearly double the cost. Such conservation of our financial resources will make possible more rapid progress in achieving our water development goals.

By using the $75,000,000 now in reserve in the "rainy day" fund, we will be assuring that this surplus will be used for permanent and vital improvement of the State for the benefit of all areas. As a cash payment, it will take the place of at least $125,000,000 in ultimate expenditure through bond financing. Careful management of the State's financial assets is increasingly essential in order that we may continue to meet the rapidly growing needs of California for increasing services of all kinds, and water is the most urgent problem now confronting the State.

I have long held to the sound view that the "rainy day" fund should be held as a reserve to be utilized in case of a sudden reduction in state tax revenue. However, the question is becoming more and more one of trying to protect that fund from being dissipated for special appropriations of one kind or another. By setting it aside for water development, you will in reality be conserving it for the future and helping to create an expanded tax base, through development of industry and agriculture, which will work to the lasting benefit of the entire State.

Another function of the "rainy day" fund, to provide funds for emergency use in event of a major disaster, can be met readily through legislation to permit any other available funds in the State Treasury to be used for such a purpose. I have asked the Department of Finance to prepare legislation to accomplish that purpose.

I urge the establishment of adequate financing of the Water Development Fund as one of the most pressing needs of the 1957 Session of the Legislature.

Respectfully submitted,

GOODWIN J. KNIGHT, Governor

Message read, and ordered printed in the Journal.

OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, March 6, 1957

Hon. James A. Cobey
Senate Chamber

Milk Prices—No. 7949

DEAR SENATOR COBEY:

You have asked for an opinion as to the constitutionality of Senate Bill No. 1813 which in general prescribes a different method by which the director is to determine minimum prices to be paid by distributors in accordance with the stabilization and marketing plan for fluid milk, cream, skim milk, milk fat or fluid skim milk components in that instead of basing such prices upon the economic relationship of the price of fluid milk to the price of manufacturing milk, taking into consideration the additional costs of producing and marketing fluid milk, the prices under Senate Bill No. 1813 would be prescribed so as to be in sound economic relationship with the price of manufacturing milk, detailing certain factors to be considered in determining this relationship.

Opinion

In our opinion Senate Bill No. 1813 would be upheld as constitutional.

Analysis

As stated in the case of Jersey Maid Milk Products Company v. Brock, 13 Cal. 2d 620, at 642:

> "It is well settled that the Legislature may commit to an administrative officer power to determine whether the facts of a particular case bring it within a rule or standard previously established by the Legislature for his governance. A familiar illustration is where the Legislature enacts a law prescribing that the rates to be charged by a public utility shall be 'reasonable,' and creates a commission with power to investigate and fix rates." (Quoting from Dominguez Land Corp. v. Daugherty 196 Cal. 468, 484.)

In the Jersey Maid case the court considered the delegation of power to the director to fix minimum prices under the sections of the Agricultural Code which have now become Sections 4246, 4247, and 4281. The court stated at page 653:

> "* * * It is contended that the term, 'economic relationship' is indefinite and too uncertain to form any standard by which the director may be guided in fixing the minimum price to be paid for fluid milk. This term is not defined in any provision of the Agricultural Code and we have been unable to bring to light any judicial interpretation of its meaning. We think, however, that the section itself fairly indicates what was in the mind of the Legislature in the use of the term 'economic relationship.'"

In our opinion, in view of the basic policy expressed by the Legislature in Sections 4201 to 4205 of the Agricultural Code the language added by Senate Bill 1813 also fairly indicates what is in the mind of the Legislature. In general, the policy to be followed in administering these provisions as provided in Sections 4201 to 4205 is that the director is to prescribe marketing areas which are necessary due to the varying cost of production, health regulations, transportation and other factors (Sec. 4204 (b)) and that the director may formulate stabilization and marketing plans to enable the dairy industry to correct existing evils and develop and maintain satisfactory marketing conditions and bring about a reasonable amount of stability and prosperity in the production of marketing of fluid milk and fluid cream. (Secs. 4201 and 4204). In view of these policies the determination of "sound economic relationship" as found in amended Section 4281 would seem to be as ascertainable as the meaning of "economic relationship" found in present Section 4281 which was upheld by the court in the Jersey Maid case.

The essentials of the legislative function as to determining and formulating legislative policy in the area of fixing minimum prices for fluid milk are set forth in Sections 4201 to 4205 and are not changed by this bill. This bill does change the present method prescribed by the Legislature for carrying out the essential policy formulated but does not affect the basic policy determinations and therefore in our opinion is a proper delegation to an administrative officer.

Very truly yours,

By KENT L. DECHAMBEAU, Deputy

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, March 4, 1957

Analysis of Senate Bill No. 1813—No. 7949

Senate Bill No. 1813 amends Sections 4246, 4247 and 4281 of the Agricultural Code to provide that the director when prescribing minimum prices to be paid by distributors in accordance with the stabilization and marketing plan for fluid milk, cream, skim milk, milk fat or fluid skim milk components shall designate such price so that it will be in a sound economic relationship with the price of manufacturing milk rather than that the minimum price be based upon the economic relationship of the price of fluid milk to the price of manufacturing milk, taking into consideration the additional costs incurred in producing and marketing fluid milk over and above such costs for manufacturing milk.

In addition, the bill provides that in determining such sound economic relationship the director shall take into consideration all relevant factors including but not limited to (a) the economic soundness of manufacturing milk prices in relation to the costs of producing manufacturing milk; (b) the additional costs of producing and marketing fluid milk; and (c) current and prospective supplies of fluid milk in relation to current and prospective demands for such fluid milk for all purposes.

In fixing the prices the director shall also consider insuring consumers a sufficient quantity of milk for all purposes, including the additional supply which is needed to provide for normal fluctuations in production as well as fluctuations in consumer demand for fluid milk, cream, and skim milk for all purposes. Presently the fluctuations considered are only in consumer demand and only for fluid milk, cream and skim milk for Class 1 purposes.

OPINION OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL
February 27, 1957

Hon. James A. Cobey, Member of the Senate
P. O. Box 1229, Merced, California
DEAR SENATOR COBEY:

Re: Constitutionality of Senate Bill No. 1813

You have requested our informal opinion on the constitutionality of Senate Bill 1813 in the form introduced on January 23, 1957. This bill amends Sections 4246, 4247, and 4281 of the Agricultural Code, which are sections of the Milk Control Law, Chapter 17, Division 6, of the Agricultural Code, comprising Sections 4200 through 4420 of that code.

The three sections so amended establish standards under which the Director of Agriculture is authorized to prescribe minimum prices to be paid by distributors to producers for fluid milk as a part of stabilization and marketing plans. Sections 4246 and 4247, as they read at present, provide that such minimum prices "shall be based upon the economic relationship of the price of fluid milk for the marketing area involved * * *, to the price of manufacturing milk, taking into consideration the additional costs incurred in producing and marketing such fluid milk over and above such costs incurred in producing and marketing such manufacturing milk." Section 4281 in its present form recites this same standard, but in addition provides that in prescribing such minimum prices, the director shall also take "into consideration all of the purposes, policies, and standards contained in Sections 4200, 4201, 4204, 4205, and 4246"; and the Director of Agriculture is required to further find "that such prices will insure consumers a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, including a reasonable estimate of the additional supply which is needed to provide for normal fluctuations in consumer demand for fluid milk, cream, and skim milk for Class 1 purposes for such marketing area."

Senate Bill No. 1813 deletes all reference to standards from both Sections 4246 and 4247. The bill amends Section 4281 to change the standards under which the Director of Agriculture is authorized to prescribe minimum producer prices in stabilization and marketing plans for fluid milk in various classes. As amended, the section provides such standards in the following language:

> " * * * the prices so designated or prescribed shall be in a sound economic relationship with the price of manufacturing milk; provided, further, that in determining such sound economic relationship the director shall take into consideration all of the relevant factors in such relationship, including but not limited to: (a) the economic soundness of manufacturing milk prices in relation to the costs of producing manufacturing milk; (b) the additional costs of producing and marketing fluid milk over and above costs of producing and marketing manufacturing milk; (c) current and prospective supplies of fluid milk in relation to current and prospective demands for such fluid milk for all purposes; and (d) all of the purposes, policies, and standards contained in Sections 4200, 4201, 4204, and 4205; and provided further, the director finds that such prices will insure consumers a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk for all purposes, including a reasonable estimate of the additional supply which is needed to provide for normal fluctuations in production and in consumer demand for fluid milk, cream, and skim milk for such marketing area."

The constitutional question involved is whether the Legislature has made an illegal delegation of legislative power to the Director of Agriculture so that he is authorized to act on his own whim without being curbed by legislative guides.

In Jersey Maid Milk Products Co. v. Brock, 13 Cal. 2d 620, the standards of the Milk Control Act by which the Director of Agriculture is authorized to fix minimum producer prices, in substantially the same form as the standards now contained in Section 4281 of the Agricultural Code, were reviewed by our Supreme Court and found not to violate any provisions of the Federal or State Constitutions. In the Jersey Maid case and also in Ray v. Parker, 15 Cal. 2d 275, other legislative standards contained in the Milk Control Act were found sufficient against various constitutional objections.

The bill changes these standards but we have no hesitancy in saying that under the principles authorizing the Legislature to delegate discretion to administrative officers and bodies, there is no violation of constitutional provisions. The indisputable power of courts to declare invalid statutes enacted under the police power is exercised with extreme caution. There is a strong presumption in favor of the propriety of the exercise of the power by the Legislature. If there is a proper legislative purpose, a law that carries out that purpose will be upheld by the courts if not arbitrary or discriminatory. We are of the opinion that the new standards comply with the requirements laid down for legislative guides for administrative action.

The California Constitution expressly separates the powers of government into three departments (California Constitution, Article III). The same principle, although not expressly stated, is implicit in the United States Constitution. Broadly speaking, one branch of the State Government may not exercise the authority of either of the other two branches (Parker v. Riley, 18 Cal. 2d 83, 89). Legislative power is vested in the Legislature but it is not required to ascertain all of the facts upon which it bases legislation. Instead, it may set up standards and leave to the executive branch the discretion to carry out the purposes of the legislation within the standards so established (Brock v. Superior Court, 9 Cal. 2d 296; Agricultural Prorate Commission v. Superior Court, 5 Cal. 2d 550).

Where the Legislature lays down a sufficiently clear test or standard, the discretion to carry out the legislative purpose by regulations or orders may be given to a board, commission or officer, but where the statute delegating authority fails to set forth sufficiently definite standards, administrative action under the statute is said to be uncontrolled and the legislation becomes invalid (Schechter Poultry Corp. v. United States, 295 U. S. 495). The test of the sufficiency of legislative standards for administrative action under the United States Constitution and under the California Constitution appear to be the same and California cases considering the validity of statutes in this regard under the California Constitution have applied the same tests as federal courts in scrutinizing such standards under the United States Constitution.

Where a statute contains insufficient guides for administrative action, not only is the constitutional principle of the separation of legislative and executive powers violated but, as well, under certain circumstances the uncontrolled action of the administrator in his attempt to carry out his interpretation of the statute may be said to be arbitrary and capricious, depending entirely upon his will without ample legislative directives, and thus such administrative action is a denial of due process of law.

The problem is not the certainty required in a criminal statute but the sufficiency of the delegation of administrative authority.

In the field of economic and trade regulation, the courts have recognized that boards, commissions and officers are specialists in the problems involved and that it does not violate constitutional provisions to delegate authority to them under very broad standards or guides (Agricultural Prorate Com. v. Superior Court, 5 Cal. 2d 550, 568-571). It was said in California State Auto Association Inter-Insurance Bureau v. Downey, 96 Cal. App. 2d 876 at 907:

> "While the statute must furnish the administrator with a yardstick, it need not furnish a micrometer."

Many examples of permissible legislative standards may be cited.

In Miller v. Municipal Court, 22 Cal. 2d 818, at 834, the court listed with approval a group of standards which has previously been accepted by the United States Supreme Court, among others, as follows:

(a) "Maximum coal prices are to reflect a reasonable return on the fair value of the property" (Sunshine A Coal Co. v. Adkins, 310 U. S. 381); (b) "to set minimum milk prices based on parity, but adjusted if parity is unreasonable in view of the price of feed and economic conditions affecting supply and demand" (United States v. Rock Royal Co-op, 307 U. S. 533); (c) "public convenience, interest or necessity" (National Broadcasting Co. v. United States, 319 U. S. 190; Federal Radio Commission v. Nelson Bros. Co., 280 U. S. 266); (d) "in the public interest" (New York Central Securities Corp. v. United States, 287 U. S. 12); (e) "just and reasonable" commissions (Tagg Bros & Moorhead v. United States, 280 U. S. 420); (f) "undesirable resident" (Mahler v. Eby, 264 U. S. 32); (g) "unreasonable obstruction to navigation" (Monongahela Bridge Co. v. United States, 216 U. S. 177; Union Bridge Co. v. United States, 204 U. S. 364; (h) "purity, quality and fitness for consumption" (Buttfield v. Shanahan, 192 U. S. 470); (i) "equalization of the costs of production" (J. W. Hampton, Jr. & Co. v. United States, 276 U. S. 394).

Among the many other examples of broad legislative standards in statutes in the field of economic and trade regulation are those upheld in the following cases:

Bowles v. Willingham, 321 U. S. 503 (rents which are "generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of this act"); American Power and Light Co. v. Securities and Exchange Commission, 329 U. S. 90 (holding company system "does not unduly or unnecessarily complicate the structure or unfairly or inequitably distribute voting power among security holders"); Lichter v. United States, 334 U. S. 742 ("excessive profits" as ground for renegotiation); Opp Cotton Mills, Inc. v. Administrator, 312 U. S. 126 (highest minimum wage rates which "will not substantially curtail employment in industry").

The California Supreme Court has clearly accepted and followed the decisions of the United States Supreme Court in testing the sufficiency of legislative standards for administrative action contained in statutes dealing with economic and trade regulation. The Jersey Maid case, the Ray case and later cases, among them, Franchise Tax Board v. Superior Court, 36 Cal. 2d 538, 548, approve such broad guides.

The courts have frequently commented upon the need for the delegation of broad discretionary powers to the administrator of milk pricing statutes. As an example, in Knudsen Creamery Co. v. Brock, 37 Cal. 2d 485 at 495, the court said that a certain resale price order under the Milk Control Law must be sustained as reasonable "considering the complexities of the administration of the Milk Control Act and the plain intent of the Legislature to give the director a wide discretion in formulating regulations for the effective production and distribution of milk throughout the State."

Under the above authorities, the legislative standards in Section 4281, as it is proposed to be amended by Senate Bill 1813, appear more than ample and definitely canalize administrative authority within definite banks.

The producer prices must be "in a sound economic relationship with the price of manufacturing milk." This is a primary legislative standard and this alone appears to be a sufficient standard under the cases cited. The bill does not stop there, but provides four different tests to be applied, among others, in determining such sound economic relationship. The first consideration in arriving at the sound economic relationship is "the economic soundness of manufacturing milk prices in relation to the costs of producing manufacturing milk." Manufacturing milk prices on the national market may be depressed so that adding to such depressed price the additional costs involved in producing Grade A milk in California may not result in an economically sound price for Grade A milk. This is a factor to be taken into consideration. As we have seen in United States v. Rock Royal Co-op, 307 U. S. 533, authority "to set minimum milk prices based on parity, but adjusted if parity is unreasonable in view of the price of feed and economic conditions affecting supply and demand" was held not to violate constitutional provisions. It was said in the Rock Royal case, at page 577: "This price cannot be determined by mathematical formula but the standards give ample indication of the various factors to be considered by the secretary."

The second consideration in fixing the sound economic relationship is "the additional costs of producing and marketing fluid milk over and above costs of producing and marketing manufacturing milk." This is a substantial repetition of one of the standards already in Section 4281, which standard was approved in Jersey Maid Milk Products Co. v. Brock, 13 Cal. 2d 620, 652-655. The fourth consideration to be applied in fixing the sound economic relationship is "all of the purposes, policies and standards contained in Sections 4200, 4201, 4204 and 4205." This was also approved as a sufficient standard in the Jersey Maid case at pages 655-659. The third consideration in arriving at the sound economic relationship is "current and prospective supplies of fluid milk in relation to current and prospective demands for such fluid milk for all purposes." This is substantially a repetition of the former standard in the Milk Control Act, prices that "will insure consumers a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk" which also was held to be a sufficiently definite standard in the Jersey Maid case (at pages 655 to 659).

These four factors or considerations to be taken into consideration by the Director of Agriculture under the provisions of the bill in arriving at the sound economic relationship between the price of Grade A milk and manufacturing milk are much more restrictive than many of the legislative guides that have already been approved by our courts.

The four considerations just reviewed are not exclusive in determining such sound economic relationship, since the bill provides that "in determining such sound economic relationship the director shall take into consideration all of the relevant factors in such relationship, including but not limited to:" the four factors just noticed. The language that we have italicized in the provision just quoted means that although the Director of Agriculture must take into consideration the four factors mentioned in the bill, he may also take into consideration other relevant factors in such economic relationship. Such factors, although not pinpointed in the bill, must be "relevant" to the sound economic relationship. Such additional relevant considerations may conceivably outweight the four specified economic factors set forth in the bill. However, since in our opinion it would have been a sufficient legislative standard if the bill merely specified that the minimum prices to producers shall be "in a sound economic relationship with the price of manufacturing milk," the fact that some undisclosed factor may override the expressed factors is not detrimental and the bill would still be upheld. However, unless it is anticipated that some factor or contingency not disclosed in the bill will be taken into consideration by the director in arriving at the sound economic relationship, it will do away with a possible argument if there is stricken from lines 12 and 13 on page 2 of the bill the words "including but not limited to."

The present Section 4281 provides an additional standard in the requirement that a finding must be made that the prices established "will insure consumers a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, including a reasonable supply which is needed to provide for normal fluctuations in consumer demand for fluid milk, cream, and skim milk for Class 1 purposes for such marketing area." The section, as amended by this bill, changes the quoted provisions so that the director is required to find that the prices will insure consumers a sufficient quantity of such milk for all purposes, including the additional supply which is needed for normal fluctuations in production (as well as in consumer demand) of fluid milk, cream and skim milk for all purposes for such marketing area. The change appears to be a recognition of the fact that the practice is for distributors to contract with producers to buy more Grade A milk than the distributors will be able to use for Class 1 purposes during flush times. This is done to safeguard the distributors' supply during periods of lower production. The change in this standard does not affect the validity of the standards as a legislative guide to administrative action.

In the existing section, the purposes, policies and standards of the statute, approved as a sufficient legislative standard in the Jersey Maid case, exist as a standard independent of the economic relationship between the price of fluid milk and the price of manufacturing milk. In the section as amended by this bill such purposes, policies and standards become one of the "relative factors" in the primary "sound economic relationship" guide. In our opinion this subordination of the general purposes to the specific "sound economic relationship" guide has no effect upon the validity of the standards prescribed for establishing producer prices.

Thus, the changes made in the legislative standards for establishing minimum prices to be paid by distributors to producers for fluid milk in the various classes contained in Section 4281 of the Agricultural Code in the bill in question do not violate the provision of the California Constitution providing for the separation of the powers of government into three departments; the standards so set up are sufficiently certain and definite to permit discretionary administrative action under the doctrines evolved by the courts and, in our opinion, if the bill is enacted, the provisions of Section 4281 will not be held to be a delegation of uncontrolled legislative power to an administrative officer in contravention of the provisions of the California Constitution. Stabilization and marketing orders prescribing such minimum producer prices will not be a taking of property without due process of law because of any uncertainty or indefiniteness of legislative standards.

To paraphrase the quotation from the Reed Royal case, minimum producer prices cannot be established under this bill by mathematical formula, but the standards of the bill give ample indication of the various factors to be considered by the Director of Agriculture.

Very truly yours,

EDMUND G. BROWN, Attorney General
By PAUL M. JOSEPH, Deputy Attorney General

It is recognized that the practice of denying employment opportunity and discriminating in the terms of employment for such reasons, foments domestic strife and unrest, deprives the State of the fullest utilization of its capacities for development and advance, and substantially and adversely affects the interests of employees, employers, and the public in general.

This part shall be deemed an exercise of the police power of the State for the protection of the public welfare, prosperity, health, and peace of the people of the State of California.

1412. The opportunity to seek, obtain and hold employment without discrimination because of race, religious creed, color, national origin, or ancestry is hereby recognized as and declared to be a civil right.

1414. There is hereby created a State Fair Employment Practice Commission. Such commission shall consist of five members, to be known as commissioners, who shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and one of whom shall be designated as chairman by the Governor. The term of office of each member of the commission shall be for four years; provided, however, that the commissioners first appointed two shall be appointed for a term of one year, one for a term of two years, one for a term of three years, and one for a term of four years.

1416. The members of the commission shall not practice in their respective professions or callings but shall devote their entire time to the duties of their respective offices. Each member of the commission shall receive a salary of ten thousand five hundred dollars ($10,500) a year and shall also be entitled to his expenses actually and necessarily incurred by him in the performance of his duties.

1417. Any member of the commission may be removed by the Governor for inefficiency, for neglect of duty, misconduct or malfeasance in office, after being given a written statement of the charges and an opportunity to be heard thereon.

1418. The commission shall formulate policies to effectuate the purposes of this part and may make recommendations to agencies and officers of the state and local governments in aid of such policies and purposes.

1419. The commission shall have the following functions, powers and duties:

(a) To establish and maintain a principal office and such other offices within the State as it may deem necessary.

(f) To receive, investigate and pass upon complaints alleging discrimination in employment because of race, religious creed, color, national origin or ancestry.

(g) To hold hearings, subpena witnesses, compel their attendance, administer oaths, examine any person under oath and, in connection therewith, to require the production of any books or papers relating to any matter under investigation or in question before the commission.

(h) To create such advisory agencies and conciliation councils, local or otherwise, as in its judgment will aid in effectuating the purposes of this part, and may empower them to study the problems of discrimination in all or specific fields of human relationships or in specific instances of discrimination because of race, religious creed, color, national origin, or ancestry, and to foster through community effort or otherwise good will, cooperation, and conciliation among the groups and elements of the population of the State and to make recommendations to the commission for the development of policies and procedures in general and in specific instances. (j) To render annually to the Governor and biennially to the Legislature a written report of its activities and of its recommendations.

1420. It shall be an unlawful employment practice:

(a) For an employer, because of the race, religious creed, color, national origin, or ancestry of any person, to refuse to hire or employ him or to bar or to discharge from employment such person, or to discriminate against such person in compensation or in terms, conditions or privileges of employment.

(b) For a labor organization, because of the race, religious creed, color, national origin, or ancestry of any person, to exclude, expel or restrict from its membership such person, or to provide only second class or segregated membership or to discriminate in any way against any of its members or against any employer or against any person employed by an employer.

(c) For any employer or employment agency to print or circulate or cause to be printed or circulated any publication, or to use any form of application for employment or to make any inquiry in connection with prospective employment, which expresses, directly or indirectly, any limitation, specification or discrimination as to race, religious creed, color, national origin, or ancestry or any intent to make any such limitation, specification or discrimination.

(d) For any employer, labor organization or employment agency to discharge, expel or otherwise discriminate against any person because he has opposed any practices forbidden under this act or because he has filed a complaint, testified or assisted in any proceeding under this part.

(e) For any person to aid, abet, incite, compel, or coerce the doing of any of the acts forbidden under this part, or to attempt to do so.

1421. The commission is empowered to prevent discriminatory employment practices. When it shall appear to it that a discriminatory employment practice may have been committed, the chairman of the commission shall designate one of the commissioners to make, with the assistance of the commission's staff, prompt investigation in connection therewith. If such commissioner determines after such investigation that further action is warranted, he shall immediately endeavor to eliminate the unlawful employment practice complained of by conference, conciliation and persuasion. The members of the commission and its staff shall not disclose what has transpired in the course of such endeavors.

1422. Any person claiming to be aggrieved by an alleged unlawful employment practice may file with the commission a verified accusation in writing which shall state the name and address of the person, employer, labor organization or employment agency alleged to have committed the unlawful employment practice complained of and which shall set forth the particulars thereof and contain such other information as may be required by the commission. The Attorney General or any commissioner making an investigation under Section 1421 may, in like manner, make, sign and file such accusation. Any employer whose employees, or some of them, refuse or threaten to refuse to cooperate with the provisions of this part may file with the commission a verified accusation asking for assistance by conciliation or other remedial action.

1423. After the filing of any accusation, an investigation shall be made and an attempt to eliminate such practice shall be made as provided in Section 1421 unless such attempt has previously been made.

In case of failure to eliminate such practice, or in advance thereof if in the judgment of the commissioner making the investigation, circumstances warrant, the latter shall cause to be issued and served in the name of the commission, a written notice, together with a copy of such accusation, as the same may have been amended, requiring the person, employer, labor organization or employment agency named to answer the charges of such accusation at a hearing.

1424. Hearings held under the provision of this part shall be conducted, as nearly as practicable, in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code, and the commission shall have all the powers granted therein.

1425. The case in support of the accusation shall be presented before the commission by one of its attorneys or agents, and the commissioner who shall have previously made the investigation and caused the notice to be issued shall not participate in the hearing except as a witness, nor shall he participate in the deliberations of the commission in such case; and the aforesaid endeavors at conciliation shall not be received in evidence.

1426. If the commission finds that a respondent has engaged in any unlawful employment practice as defined in this part, the commission shall state its findings of fact and shall issue and cause to be served on such respondent an order requiring such respondent to cease and desist from such unlawful employment practice and to take such affirmative action, including (but not limited to) hiring, reinstatement or upgrading of employees, with or without back pay, or restoration to membership in any respondent labor organization, as, in the judgment of the commission, will effectuate the purposes of this part, and including a requirement for report of the manner of compliance. If the commission finds that a respondent has not engaged in any such unlawful employment practice, the commission shall state its findings of fact and shall issue and cause to be served on the complainant an order dismissing the said accusation as to such respondent. A copy of its order shall be delivered in all cases to the Attorney General, and such other public officers as the commission deems proper.

1427. The commission shall establish rules of practice not inconsistent with law to govern the foregoing procedure and its own actions thereunder.

1428. Every final order or decision of the commission is subject to judicial review in accordance with law.

1429. Whenever the commission believes, on the basis of evidence presented to it, that any person is violating or is about to violate any final order or decision issued by it pursuant to this part, the commission may bring an action in the Superior Court of the State of California against such person to enjoin him from continuing the violation or engaging therein or in doing anything in furtherance thereof. In such action an order or judgment may be entered awarding such temporary restraining order or such preliminary or final injunction as may be proper.

1430. Any person who shall wilfully resist, prevent, impede or interfere with any member of the commission or any of its agents or agencies in the performance of duties pursuant to this part, or who shall in any manner wilfully violate an order of the commission, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment in a county jail, not exceeding six (6) months, or by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), or both.

1431. The provisions of this part shall be construed liberally for the accomplishment of the purposes thereof. Nothing contained in this act shall be deemed to repeal any of the provisions of the Civil Rights Law or of any other law of this State relating to discrimination because of race, religious creed, color, national origin or ancestry.

1432. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of this part or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, shall, for any reason, be adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder of this part and the application thereof to other persons or circumstances, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered and to the person or circumstances involved."

"SECTION 1. Section 1821 is added to the Revenue and Taxation Code, to read:

1821. To enable the board to perform its duties under this article and Sections 9 and 14 of Article XIII of the State Constitution, the board shall make a survey, not less often than triennially, in each county to determine the full cash value of all locally assessable tangible property as of the lien date for the last equalized roll. As a basis for this determination, the board shall ascertain the full cash value of a sample of locally assessable tangible property sufficient in size and dispersion to insure an adequate representation therein of the several classes of property throughout the county. In ascertaining the full cash value of the property in the sample the board shall consider appraisal data compiled by competent appraisers. The board shall make surveys each year in no fewer than 18 nor more than 22 counties.

SEC. 2. Section 1822 is added to said code, to read:

1822. As soon as appraisals have been made in any county by the board pursuant to Section 1821, the board shall give the assessor of the county a reasonable opportunity to examine and discuss the appraisals with the board appraisers.

SEC. 3. Section 1823 is added to said code, to read:

1823. No appraisal data relating to individual properties, obtained for the purposes of any survey under this chapter shall be made public and no state or local officer gaining knowledge thereof in any action taken under this chapter shall make any disclosure with respect thereto except as that may be required for the purposes of this chapter.

SEC. 4. Section 1824 is added to said code, to read:

1824. After completing a survey pursuant to Section 1821, the board shall estimate any change that may have occurred in the full cash value of locally assessable tangible property between the lien date of the roll for which the survey was made and the lien date of the current roll. The board shall use as the basis for such estimate data on population, school enrollment, retail sales or other factors reasonably indicative of change or lack of change in the total full cash value of the property. The relationship between the total assessed value of the tangible property on the current local roll and the total full cash value of locally assessable tangible property so estimated shall be computed for each county of the State by July 15th of each year.

SEC. 5. Section 1825 is added to said code, to read:

1825. The board shall meet at the state capital on the third Monday in July and remain in session from day to day, holidays excepted, up to and including the third Monday in August. During this session, under rules of notice prescribed by the board, it shall equalize the assessment of property as prescribed by law.

SEC. 6. Section 1826 is added to said code, to read:

1826. Equalization by the board of the valuation of taxable property in counties for the purposes of taxation shall be by raising or lowering the value of tangible property entered upon the secured roll by the assessor of the county.

SEC. 7. Section 1827 is added to said code, to read:

1827. The final action of the board in equalizing an assessment or a local roll shall be performed only at the state capital.

SEC. 8. Section 1828 is added to said code, to read:

1828. When the equalization is completed, the secretary of the board shall transmit to each county auditor and board of supervisors and each city council involved a statement of:

(a) The changes made by the board in the local roll.

(b) The percentum to be added to or deducted from the valuation of the roll.

This statement is prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings of the board resulting in the action which is the subject matter of the statement.

SEC. 9. Section 1829 is added to said code, to read:

1829. As soon as the auditor receives from the board the statement of its equalization, he shall enter the corresponding changes in a column provided with a proper heading on the roll, counting any fractional sum when more than five dollars ($5) as ten dollars ($10), and omitting it when five dollars ($5) or less, so that no separate valuation contains a fraction of ten dollars ($10), and he shall add the column to show the total value of the property in the county as corrected by the board.

SEC. 10. While they are in effect, Sections 1821 to 1829, inclusive, added to the Revenue and Taxation Code by this act, constitute the sole provisions of Article 3, Chapter 2, Part 3, Division 1 of that code, relating generally to equalization by the State Board of Equalization. These sections cease to be in effect and are repealed when the provisions of the act cited in Section 11 of this act become operative.

SEC. 11. Section 28 of Chapter 1466 of the Statutes of 1949 is amended to read:

SEC. 28. The provisions of Sections 1 to 27, inclusive, of this act shall take effect on September 2, 1950, to the end that they shall be operative for the first time with respect to assessments made as of the first Monday in March [1957] 1960, and taxes levied and funds allocated on the basis thereof. [Meanwhile, when funds are available for that purpose the State Board of Equalization shall proceed with surveys in the manner directed by Section 1831 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, as added by this act, to assure completion of a survey pursuant to that section with respect to each county by the second Monday in July 1957.]

SEC. 12. To assure availability at all times of funds with which to gather appraisal data each year as contemplated under Section 1821 of the Revenue and Taxation Code or as may be required under other provisions of that code by which that section may be replaced, thus enabling the State Board of Equalization to perform its duties with respect to intercounty equalization under that code and the Constitution of California, there is hereby appropriated annually, for each fiscal year, beginning with the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1957, for the use and support of that board, out of any money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of _____ dollars ($_____) to provide for surveys pursuant to Section 1821 or such other provision of law.

In addition to the sum specified above, there shall be provided for surveys pursuant to Section 1821, or other sections of the Revenue and Taxation Code that may pertain to such surveys, any additional sums specified in any appropriation made therefor.

SEC. 13. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting this necessity are:

Numerous unsolved problems of such magnitude have arisen as to the scope and application of Chapter 1466 of the Statutes of 1949, that if such law is permitted to become operative on July 1, 1957, as currently contemplated, there is great danger of a serious dislocation in the local tax structure. In order to avoid this situation, and to permit the uninterrupted continuation of the performance of necessary public services supported by revenue raised and distributed locally, it is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety that this measure be enacted to take effect at once."

Amendment No. 3

On page 1, strike out lines 3 through 19, inclusive, and strike out all of pages 2 and 3.

Amendments read, and adopted.

Bill ordered printed, and re-referred to Committee on Revenue and Taxation.

7773.1. If before or after the effective date of this section, an annexation or other inclusion of a portion of an applicant district in another district comprises less than 5 percent of the assessed valuation of the applicant district on the effective date of such change, no annexation or other inclusion shall be deemed to have taken place for the purposes of Sections 7773 and 7774 of this article.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into effect immediately. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Many impoverished school districts have recently been undergoing nominal adjustments in boundaries which have no practical effect on their need for school building aid. Under present law, such nominal changes frequently invalidate apportionments or limit the amount that may be apportioned to complete a project, thereby delaying or arbitrarily limiting urgently needed school construction. In order that school children that are without adequate school facilities may be properly housed without delay, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately."

Amendments read, and adopted.

9602.5. Notwithstanding any other provision in this part, the term "operator" shall not include any person engaged in the transportation of property for hire or compensation. Any operator may in any year at his option pay in lieu of the tax imposed under this part the tax imposed under Part 4.5 (commencing with Section 10550) of Division 2 of this code.

SEC. 2. Part 4.5 (commencing with Section 10550) is added to Division 2 of said code, to read:

PART 4.5. VEHICLE WEIGHT-DISTANCE TAX

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS AND DEFINITIONS

10550. This part is known and may be cited as the "Vehicle Weight-Distance Tax Law."

10550.1. Except where the context otherwise requires, the definitions given in this chapter govern the construction of this part.

10550.2. "Vehicle" includes any automobile, bus, truck, tractor, or other self-propelled device used upon the public highways, otherwise than upon fixed rails or tracks, and having a gross weight in excess of 20,000 pounds. "Vehicle" does not include any vehicle referred to in Sections 45 or 142 of the Vehicle Code.

10550.3. "Gross weight" means the weight of the vehicle plus the weight of the maximum load which the vehicle may transport as declared by the operator and approved by the department plus the weight of any trailer, semitrailer, dolly or other device drawn thereby, except such trailers or devices as are referred to in Sections 45 or 142 of the Vehicle Code and the weight of the maximum load which such towed vehicle may transport as declared by the operator and approved by the department. The maximum load of a passenger vehicle shall be the weight of the maximum seating capacity of the vehicle, including the seat of the driver, computed at 150 pounds per passenger seat, plus the maximum weight of any property to be carried on the vehicle. If separate or individual seats are not provided, twenty (20) lineal inches shall be deemed the equivalent of one passenger seat.

10550.4. "Operator" includes any person having the lawful use or control, or the right to the use or control, of any vehicle designed, used or maintained primarily for transportation of property. "Operator" also includes any person having the lawful use or control, or the right to use or control, of any vehicle designed, used or maintained primarily for the transportation of passengers if such person has elected to pay the tax provided in this part.

10550.5. "Person" includes any individual, firm, copartnership, joint venture, association, corporation, estate, trust, business trust, receiver, syndicate, or any other group or combination acting as a unit. "Person" also includes this State, any county, city and county, municipality, district, or other political subdivision thereof, as respects the operation of any vehicle for the transportation of persons or property for hire or compensation.

10550.6. "Public highway" includes every way or place generally open to the use of the public for the purpose of vehicular travel, notwithstanding that the way or place may be temporarily closed for the purpose of construction, reconstruction, maintenance, or repair.

10550.7. "In this State" or "in the State" means within the exterior limits of the State of California and includes all territory within these limits owned by or ceded to the United States of America.

10550.8. "Department" means the Department of Motor Vehicles.

CHAPTER 2. IMPOSITION OF TAX

10555. For the privilege of operating a vehicle a tax is hereby imposed upon the operator at the following rates based on the gross weight of the vehicle and the number of miles it is operated in this State:

Gross weight of vehicle	Rate of tax per mile (in mills)
20,001 to and including 30,000 pounds	4
30,001 to and including 46,000 pounds	8
46,001 to and including 62,000 pounds	12
62,001 pounds and over	17

10555.1. The payment of registration and weight fees on any vehicle shall constitute a prepayment of the tax imposed by this part for the first 10,000 miles of operation thereof. If the vehicle is registered for less than the entire year, the number of miles for which the tax imposed by this part shall be deemed prepaid as to such vehicle shall be reduced in the proportion that the amount of registration and weight fees paid by the operator as to such vehicle bears to the total amount of such fees which would have been paid for registration if the vehicle had been registered for the entire year.

10555.2. In the event that any vehicle is part of a prorated fleet, the number of miles for which the tax imposed by this part shall be deemed prepaid as to such vehicle shall be reduced in the proportion that the total amount of registration and weight fees paid to this State by the fleet operator bears to the total amount of such fees which would have been paid if all of the fleet vehicles operated in the State had been registered in this State.

10555.3. The tax imposed by Section 10555 of this code does not apply with respect to the mileage of any vehicle from an operation conducted on private property.

CHAPTER 3. PERMITS AND EMBLEMS

Article 1. Issuance of Permits

10560. The operator of a vehicle shall apply to the board for a permit for each vehicle operated by him in this State. The application shall be made upon a form prescribed by the board and shall set forth the gross weight of each vehicle and such other information as the board may require.

10560.1. At the time of making the application the operator shall pay to the board a permit fee of one dollar ($1) for each permit.

10560.2. Upon the receipt of the application, accompanied by the required fee, the board shall issue a permit to the applicant. The board may refuse to issue a permit to any person to whom a permit was previously issued and subsequently revoked for a violation of this part.

10560.3. The permit does not authorize the operation of any motor vehicle upon the public highways of the State contrary to the laws in effect regulating the operation of motor vehicles.

10560.4. No permit issued is assignable by operation of law or otherwise.

10560.5. Every permit issued is valid until canceled or revoked by the board. A fee of one dollar ($1) shall be paid to the board for the issuance of a permit to any person to whom a permit was previously issued and subsequently revoked.

10560.6. It shall be unlawful for any person to operate any vehicle without first obtaining from the board the permit provided for in Section 10560.

Article 2. Emblems

10562. At the time of issuing a permit the board shall also issue to the operator an emblem for the vehicle indicating, in such manner as the board may determine, that the permit has been obtained and the gross weight of the vehicle.

10562.1. The emblem shall be attached to and conspicuously displayed upon the vehicle in such manner as the board may require.

Article 3. Revocation of Permit

10563. Whenever any operator to whom a permit has been issued under this part fails to comply with any provision of this part or any rule or regulation of the board prescribed and adopted under this part, the board upon hearing, after giving the operator 10 days' notice in writing of the time and place of the hearing to show cause why his permit or permits should not be revoked, may revoke the permit or permits.

10563.1. The board may impound the vehicle the permit for which has been revoked and which is thereafter operated on the public highways after the operator has been duly notified by the board of the revocation. The board may retain possession of the vehicle until all taxes, interest, and penalties due from the operator and all costs incurred in connection with the impounding or storage of the vehicle have been paid.

Article 4. Reinstatement of Permit

10564. Subsequent to the revocation of the permit or permits of an operator the board shall reinstate the permit or permits when the operator pays the amount of tax determined together with interest and penalties, fully complies with the provisions of this part, and pays a fee of one dollar ($1) to the board for reinstatement of each permit.

10564.1. If the permit of any vehicle has been revoked under Article 3 (commencing with Section 10563) of this chapter, the department shall not thereafter reregister the vehicle or transfer the registration of ownership thereof upon the records of the department until the board issues to the department a certificate to the effect that the operator has fully complied with the provisions of this part.

10564.2. Transfer by the department of the registered ownership of any vehicle for which a permit has been issued under this part may be effected only after a certificate of tax clearance has been issued therefor by the board. The certificate of tax clearance may be issued after the payment of all amounts due under this part or after the payment of such amounts is secured to the satisfaction of the board. The certificate completely extinguishes the lien provided for in Article 3 (commencing with Section 10582), Chapter 5, of this part in the vehicle described in the certificate.

10564.3. If the operator of any vehicle is merely the registered owner thereof and the legal owner of record repossesses the vehicle and pays the full amount of the tax determined together with all interest and penalties, the legal owner shall not be required to pay the fees required for reinstatement of the permit, nor shall any provisions of Articles 3 and 4 (commencing with Section 10563) of this chapter be applicable.

CHAPTER 4. DETERMINATIONS

Article 1. Returns and Payments

10570. The tax imposed by this part is due and payable monthly on or before the twenty-fifth day of the month following each calendar month during which taxable operations occur.

10570.1. Each operator shall on or before the twenty-fifth day of each month prepare a return for the preceding calendar month in such form as the board may prescribe, showing the mileage of the operator, the amount of tax due for the month covered by the return, and such other information as the board deems necessary for the proper administration of this part. Returns shall be signed by the operator or his duly authorized agent but need not be verified by oath.

10570.2. The operator shall deliver the return to the office of the board together with a remittance payable to the Controller for the amount of tax due.

10570.3. The board for good cause may extend for not to exceed 30 days the time for making any return or payment required under this part. The extension may be granted at any time; provided, a request therefor is filed with the board within or prior to the period for which the extension may be granted.

Any operator to whom an extension is granted shall pay, in addition to the tax, interest at the rate of one-half of 1 percent per month, or fraction thereof, from the date on which the tax would have been due without the extension to the date of payment.

10570.4. The board, if it deems it necessary in order to insure payment of the tax imposed by this part, or to facilitate the administration of this part, may require returns and payment of the tax to be made for other than monthly periods.

Article 2. Deficiency Determinations

10571. If the board is not satisfied with the return filed or amount of tax paid by any operator, it may make a deficiency determination of the tax required to be paid by the operator based upon information contained in the return or upon any information in its possession. A deficiency determination may be made of the amount of tax due for one or for more than one month.

10571.1. All deficiency determinations, exclusive of penalties, shall bear interest at the rate of one-half of 1 percent per month, or fraction thereof, from the twenty-fifth day after the close of the month or months for which the deficiency determination is made until the date of payment.

10571.2. In making a determination the board may offset overpayments for a month or months against underpayments for another month or months, against penalties, and against the interest on the underpayments.

10571.3. If any part of the deficiency for which a deficiency determination is made is due to negligence or intentional disregard of this part or authorized rules and regulations, a penalty of 10 percent of the amount of the determination shall be added thereto.

10571.4. If any part of the deficiency for which a deficiency determination is made is due to fraud or an intent to evade the tax, a penalty of 25 percent of the amount of the determination shall be added thereto.

10571.5. The board shall give the operator written notice of its determination. The notice may be served personally or by mail; if by mail, service shall be made pursuant to Section 1013 of the Code of Civil Procedure and shall be addressed to the operator at his address as it appears in the records of the board.

10571.6. Except in the case of fraud, intent to evade this part or authorized rules and regulations, failure to make a return or claim for additional amount pursuant to Section 10574.1, every notice of a deficiency determination shall be mailed to the operator within three years after the date the return was due or within three years after the return of the operator is filed, whichever period expires the later. If an operator fails to make a return, or the board fails to make a claim for additional amount pursuant to Section 10574.1, the notice of determination shall be mailed within seven years after the date the return was due.

Article 3. Determination If No Return Made

10572. If any operator fails, neglects, or refuses to file a return within the time required, the board shall make an estimate of the amount of the mileage of the operator for the month or months for which the operator failed to make a return. Upon the basis of this estimate the board shall compute and determine the tax payable by the operator, adding to the amount of tax so determined a penalty equal to 10 percent thereof. A determination may be made of the amount of tax due for one or for more than one month.

10572.1. In making a determination the board may offset overpayments for a month or months against underpayments for another month or months, against penalties, and against the interest on the underpayments.

10572.2. All determinations so made, exclusive of penalties, shall bear interest at the rate of one-half of 1 percent per month, or fraction thereof, from the twenty-fifth day after the close of the month or months for which the determinations are made until the date of payment.

10572.3. If the neglect or refusal of an operator to file a return is due to fraud or an intent to evade the tax, a penalty of 25 percent of the tax shall be added thereto in addition to the 10 percent penalty provided in Section 10572.

10572.4. Promptly after making its determination the board shall give to the delinquent written notice of the estimate, tax, and penalty, the notice to be served personally or by mail in the manner prescribed for service of notice of a deficiency determination.

Article 3.5. Jeopardy Determinations

10573. If the board believes that the collection of any amount of tax imposed under this part will be jeopardized by delay, it shall thereupon make a determination of the amount of tax due, noting that fact upon the determination. The amount determined is immediately due and payable.

10573.1. If the amount of the tax, interest, and penalty specified in the jeopardy determination is not paid within 10 days after service upon the operator of notice of the determination, the determination becomes final, unless a petition for redetermination is filed within the 10 days, and the delinquency penalty and interest provided in Article 5 (commencing with Section 10575) of this chapter shall attach to the amount of tax specified.

10573.2. The operator against whom a jeopardy determination is made may petition for the redetermination thereof pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 10574) of this chapter. He shall, however, file the petition for redetermination with the board within 10 days after the service upon him of notice of the determination. The operator shall also within the 10-day period deposit with the board such security as it may deem necessary to insure compliance with this part. The security may be sold by the board in the manner prescribed by Section 10580.

Article 4. Redeterminations

10574. Any operator against whom a determination is made by the board under Articles 2 or 3 (commencing with Section 10571) of this chapter may petition for a redetermination within 15 days after the date of mailing the notice thereof to the operator. If a petition for redetermination is not filed within the 15-day period, the determination becomes final at the expiration of the period.

10574.1. If a petition for redetermination is filed within the 15-day period, the board shall reconsider the determination and, if the operator has so requested in his petition, shall grant the operator an oral hearing and shall give him 10 days notice of the time and place of the hearing. The board may continue the hearing from time to time as may be necessary.

The board may decrease or increase the amount of the determination before it becomes final, but the amount may be increased only if a claim for the increase is asserted by the board at or before the hearing.

10574.2. The order or decision of the board upon a petition for redetermination becomes final 15 days after the date of mailing the notice thereof to the operator.

10574.3. All determinations made by the board under Articles 2 or 3 (commencing with Section 10571) of this chapter are due and payable at the time they become final. If they are not paid when due and payable, a penalty of 10 percent of the amount of the determination, exclusive of interest and penalties, shall be added thereto.

10574.4. Any notice required by this article shall be served personally or by mail in the manner prescribed for service of notice of a deficiency determination.

Article 5. Interest and Penalties

10575. Any operator who fails to pay any tax, except taxes determined by the board under Articles 2 or 3 (commencing with Section 10571) of this chapter, within the time required shall pay a penalty of 10 percent of the unpaid amount of the tax, in addition to the tax, plus interest at the rate of one-half of 1 percent per month, or fraction thereof, from the date on which the tax became due and payable until the date of payment.

CHAPTER 5. COLLECTION OF TAX

Article 1. Security for Tax

10580. The board, whenever it deems it necessary to insure compliance with this part or any rule or regulation adopted under this part, may require any person subject to the tax imposed under this part to deposit with it such security as it may determine. The board may sell the security at public sale if it becomes necessary so to do in order to recover any amount due under this part. Notice of the sale may be served upon the person who deposited the security personally or by mail in the manner prescribed for service of notice of a deficiency determination. Upon any sale, any surplus above the amount due shall be returned to the person who deposited the security.

10580.1. If any operator is delinquent in the payment of the tax, the Controller may give notice of the amount of the delinquency by registered mail to all persons having in their possession or under their control any credits or other personal property belonging to the operator, or owing any debts to the operator.

10580.2. After receiving the notice the persons so notified shall neither transfer nor make other disposition of the credits, other personal property, or debts in their possession or under their control at the time they receive the notice until the Controller consents to a transfer or disposition or until 20 days elapse after the receipt of the notice.

10580.3. All persons so notified shall within five days after receipt of the notice advise the Controller of all such credits, other personal property, or debts in their possession, under their control, or owing by them.

Article 2. Suit for Tax

10581. The Controller may request the Attorney General to bring suit for the recovery of any unpaid tax, interest, penalties, and costs.

10581.1. The Attorney General shall bring suit for any amount due and costs on the written request of the Controller and in the name of the people of the State of California in a court of competent jurisdiction in the County of Sacramento.

10581.2. Payment of an amount to the board for and on account of the tax and the acceptance thereof does not bar an action by the State to recover any additional amount which is actually due.

10581.3. In the action a writ of attachment may issue, and no bond or affidavit previous to the issuing of the attachment is required.

10581.4. In the action a certificate issued by the board showing unpaid taxes determined against any operator shall be prima facie evidence of all of the following:

(a) The determination of the tax, the delinquency thereof, and the amount of the tax, interest, penalties, and costs due and unpaid to the State.

(b) The indebtedness of the operator to the State in the amount of the tax, interest, and penalties therein appearing unpaid.

(c) The full compliance by all persons required to perform administrative duties under this part with all the forms of law in relation to the determination and levy of the tax.

Article 3. Lien of Tax

10582. The tax, penalties, and interest accruing under this part constitute a lien upon all motor vehicles and other personal property of the operator and a lien upon real property as provided in Section 10582.3.

10582.1. The lien upon personal property attaches at the time of the operation of the vehicle and has the effect of an execution duly levied against all property of the operator mentioned in Section 10582. The lien upon personal property remains until the tax and all penalties and interest accruing thereon are paid, or the property is sold for the payment thereof.

10582.2. The lien upon personal property is paramount to all private liens or encumbrances of whatever character, and to the rights of any holder of the legal title, in or to any motor vehicle the privilege of operating which is subject to the tax.

10582.3. If any amount required to be paid to the State under this part is not paid when due, the Controller may within three years after the amount is due file for record in the office of any county recorder a certificate specifying the amount, interest, and penalty due, the name and address as it appears on the records of the board of the person liable for the same, and the fact that the board has complied with all provisions of this part in the determination of the amount required to be paid. From the time of the filing for record, the amount required to be paid together with interest and penalty constitutes a lien upon all real property in the county owned by the person or afterwards and before the lien expires acquired by him. The lien has the force, effect, and priority of a judgment lien and shall continue for five years from the time of the filing of the certificate unless sooner released or otherwise discharged. The lien may, within five years from the date of the filing of the certificate or within five years from the date of the last extension of the lien in the manner herein provided, be extended by filing for record a new certificate in the office of the county recorder of any county and from the time of such filing the lien shall be extended to the real property in such county for five years unless sooner released or otherwise discharged.

10582.4. The Controller may at any time release all or any portion of the property subject to any lien provided for in this part from the lien or subordinate the lien to other liens and encumbrances if he determines that the amount, interest, and penalties are sufficiently secured by a lien on other property or that the release or subordination of the lien will not jeopardize the collection of the amount, interest, and penalties.

Article 4. Seizure and Sale

10583. Whenever an operator is delinquent in the payment of any amount due under this part, the Controller may forthwith collect the amount due from the operator in the following manner: The Controller may seize any property, real or personal, subject to the lien of the tax and thereafter sell the property, or a sufficient part of it, at public auction to pay the tax due together with any interest and penalties imposed for the delinquency and any costs incurred on account of the seizure and sale.

10583.1. Notice of the sale and the time and place thereof shall be given in writing to the delinquent operator and to all persons appearing of record to have an interest in the property at least 10 days before the date set for the sale. The notice shall be inclosed in an envelope addressed to the operator at his last known residence or place of business in this State and, in the case of any person appearing of record to have an interest in the property, addressed to the person at his last known place of residence. It shall be deposited in the United States mail, postage prepaid. The notice shall also be published for at least 10 days before the date set for the sale in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the property seized is to be sold. If there is no newspaper of general circulation in the county, notice shall be posted in three public places in the county 10 days prior to the date set for the sale. The notice shall contain a description of the property to be sold, a statement of the amount due, interest, penalties, and costs, the name of the operator, and the further statement that the tax due, interest, penalties, and costs are paid on or before the time fixed in the notice for the sale, the property, or so much of it as may be necessary, will be sold in accordance with law and the notice.

10583.2. The Controller may seize any motor vehicle subject to the lien of the tax and thereafter sell the vehicle at private sale to pay the tax due, together with any interest and penalties imposed for the delinquency and any costs incurred on account of the seizure and sale.

10583.3. Notice of the sale shall be given in writing to the delinquent operator and to all persons appearing of record to have an interest in the motor vehicle at least 10 days before the date set for the sale of the vehicle. The notice shall be inclosed in an envelope addressed to the operator at his last known residence or place of business in this State and, in the case of any person appearing of record to have an interest in the motor vehicle, addressed to the person at his last known place of residence. It shall be deposited in the United States mail, postage prepaid. The notice shall contain a description of the motor vehicle to be sold, a statement of the amount due, interest, penalties, and costs, the name of the operator, and the further statement that unless the tax due, interest, penalties, and costs are paid within 10 days the motor vehicle will be sold at private sale.

10583.4. At any sale the Controller shall sell the property in accordance with law and the notice and shall deliver to the purchaser a bill of sale for the personal property and a deed for any real property sold. The bill of sale or deed vests title in the purchaser, the unsold portion of any property seized may be left at the place of sale at the risk of the operator.

10583.5. If upon any sale the moneys received exceed the amount of all taxes, interest, penalties, and costs due the State from the operator, the Controller shall return any excess to the operator and obtain his receipt. If for any reason the receipt of the operator is not available, the Controller shall deposit the excess moneys with the State Treasurer, as trustee for the operator, subject to the order of the operator, his heirs, successors, or assigns.

Article 5. Miscellaneous Provisions

10584. The remedies of the State provided for in this chapter are cumulative, and no action taken by the Controller constitutes an election by the State to pursue any remedy to the exclusion of any other remedy for which provision is made in this part.

CHAPTER 6. OVERPAYMENTS AND REFUNDS

Article 1. Claim for Refund

10585. If the board determines that any amount not required to be paid under this part has been paid by any person, the board shall set forth in its records and certify to the State Board of Control the amount paid in excess of the amount legally due and the person from whom it was collected. If the State Board of Control approves, the excess shall thereupon be credited on any taxes then due from the operator under this part, and the balance shall be refunded to the operator, or his successors, administrators, executors, or assigns, or to the person from whom it was collected.

10585.1. No credit or refund shall be allowed after three years from the date of overpayment unless a claim therefor is filed with the board within three years from the date of overpayment.

10585.2. The claim shall be in writing and shall state the specific grounds upon which it is founded.

Article 2. Suit for Refund

10586. No injunction or writ of mandate or other legal or equitable process shall issue in any suit, action, or proceeding in any court against this State or against any officer of the State to prevent or enjoin the collection under this part of any tax or other amounts sought to be collected by the board.

10586.1. After payment of any tax under protest duly verified and setting forth the grounds of objection to the legality of the tax, the operator paying the tax may bring an action against the board in the Superior Court of the County of Sacramento for the recovery of the tax so paid.

10586.2. No action may be instituted more than one year after the last day prescribed for the payment of the tax without penalty. Failure to bring suit within the year constitutes a waiver of any demand against this State on account of alleged overpayments.

10586.3. The court shall not consider any grounds of illegality of the tax other than those set forth in the protest filed at the time of the payment of the tax.

10586.4. If judgment is rendered for the plaintiff, the amount of the judgment shall first be credited on any tax, interest, or penalties due from the plaintiff under this part, and the balance of the judgment shall be refunded to the plaintiff.

10586.5. In any judgment, interest shall be allowed at the rate of 6 percent per annum upon the amount of tax found to have been illegally collected from the date of payment of the tax to the date of allowance of credit on account of the judgment or to a date preceding the date of the refund warrant by not more than 30 days, the date to be determined by the Controller.

10586.6. A judgment shall not be rendered in favor of the plaintiff in any action brought against the board to recover any tax paid when the action is brought by or in the name of an assignee of the operator paying the tax or by any person other than the person who paid the tax.

Article 3. Recovery of Erroneous Refunds

10587. The Controller may recover any refund or part thereof which is erroneously made and any credit or part thereof which is erroneously allowed in an action brought in a court of competent jurisdiction in the County of Sacramento in the name of the people of the State of California.

10587.1. The action shall be tried in the County of Sacramento unless the court with the consent of the Attorney General orders a change of place of trial.

10587.2. The Attorney General shall prosecute the action, and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to service of summons, pleadings, proofs, trials, and appeals are applicable to the proceedings.

Article 4. Cancellations

10588. If any amount has been illegally determined, the board shall set forth in its records and certify to the State Board of Control the amount determined in excess of the amount legally due and the person against whom the determination was made. If the State Board of Control approves, it shall authorize the cancellation of the amount upon the records of the board.

CHAPTER 7. ADMINISTRATION

10590. The board shall enforce the provisions of this part, except insofar as duties and powers are vested in the department and the Controller, and may prescribe, adopt, and enforce rules and regulations relating to the administration and enforcement of this part. The board may prescribe the extent to which any ruling or regulation shall be applied without retroactive effect.

10590.1. In enforcing this part the board and its authorized representatives have the powers conferred by law upon peace officers.

10590.2. The board may employ accountants, auditors, investigators, and other expert and clerical assistance necessary to enforce its powers and perform its duties under this part.

10590.3. Every operator shall keep an accurate record of his operations in such form as the board may prescribe. All records required shall be available at all times for the inspection of the board or its representatives who may require a statement under oath reflecting the contents of the records.

10590.4. The board may prescribe the forms of all reports of operations and the forms for keeping records of operations and may make any examinations of the records of operators and other investigations it may deem necessary in carrying out the provisions of this part.

10590.5. It is unlawful for the board, the Controller, or any person having an administrative duty under this part to make known in any manner whatever the business affairs, operations, or information obtained by an investigation of records and equipment of any person visited or examined in the discharge of official duty, or the amount or source of income, profits, losses, expenditures, or any particular thereof, set forth or disclosed in any report, or to permit any report or copy thereof or any book containing any abstract or particulars thereof to be seen or examined by any person. Information respecting the tax due from an operator may be furnished, however, to any person owning or having an interest in property subject to the lien of the tax. The Governor may, by general or special order, authorize examination by other state officers, by tax officers of another state, by the Federal Government, if a reciprocal arrangement exists, or by any other person of the records maintained by the board under this part. The information so obtained pursuant to the order of the Governor shall not be made public except to the extent and in the manner that the order may authorize that it be made public.

Any violation of this section is a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000), by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both in the discretion of the court.

CHAPTER 8. DISTRIBUTION OF PROCEEDS

10595. All taxes, interest, and penalties due under this part shall be paid in the form of remittances payable to the State Controller. The Controller shall transmit the payments to the State Treasury to be deposited to the credit of the Vehicle Weight-distance Tax Fund, which fund is hereby created. All fees paid under this part shall be deposited by the board in the State Treasury to the credit of the same fund.

10595.1. All money in the Vehicle Weight distance Tax Fund, unless otherwise appropriated, shall, upon order of the Controller, be drawn therefrom for the purpose of making refunds under this part or be transferred to the Highway Users Tax Fund of the State.

CHAPTER 9. VIOLATIONS

10600. It is unlawful for any operator to do any of the following:

(a) Use any public highway in this State for the operation of a vehicle without first obtaining the permit required under this part or without carrying upon each vehicle the emblem required under this part.

(b) Fail, neglect, or refuse to make any return required under this part or any report required by the board or make any false return.

(c) Refuse to permit the board or any of its representatives to make any examination which the board may make.

(d) Fail to keep records of operations as the board may prescribe.

(e) Operate on any public highway any vehicle having an actual gross weight in excess of the gross weight set forth on the emblem issued for the vehicle, except as variations may necessarily occur in the case of passenger vehicles.

(f) Violate any other provision of this part.

Any person who violates any provision of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor, unless the act is by any other law of this State declared to be a felony.

SEC. 3. The provisions of this act shall become operative January 1, 1958, except that it shall become operative prior to that date for the purpose of establishing the necessary administration to enforce the tax when it becomes operative on January 1, 1958."

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Desmond asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following resolution from the County of Sacramento printed in the Journal:

RESOLUTION No. 16,743

WHEREAS, The California State Legislature has enacted Assembly Concurrent Resolution (No. 26) declaring that the State Legislature henceforth shall examine all proposed legislation relating to business, industry, and agriculture in terms of its effect upon the business climate of the State, and shall determine whether such legislation may have any discriminating or deterring effect upon the investment of capital and the creation of needed pay rolls in California; and

WHEREAS, The board of supervisors realize that a friendly and cooperative attitude toward industry is essential to its attraction to our county; and

WHEREAS, The board of supervisors defines business climate as:

1. Fair and equitable treatment in the ordinances and administrative regulations of the county.

2. A framework of county government the support of which adds no greater cost to doing business than the cost of government imposed by other counties of similar industrialization and favorable climate.

3. Equitable tax policies and restriction of the cost of government to reasonable levels, consistent with efficient management.

4. Fostering, in the public interest, an economic atmosphere which will enable agriculture and industry to compete for markets, because wide marketing of Sacramento products brings wealth into the county, thereby raising the standard of living of all our people; and

WHEREAS, During the last ten (10) years, under its prevailing favorable business climate, California has attracted some 14,500 new manufacturing plants and expansions, with a capital investment of approximately four billion dollars ($4,000,000,000); and

WHEREAS, For reasons hereinafter set forth, it is vitally important for California to continue to maintain and improve its business climate; and

WHEREAS, California's population is increasing at the rate of about 500,000 persons annually and is expected to reach approximately 16,000,000 by 1960; and

WHEREAS, Sacramento County is increasing at the rate of about 20,000 persons annually, and is expected to reach approximately 470,000 by 1960; and

WHEREAS, A substantial capital investment will be required to provide jobs for an anticipated 7,000 new job seekers each year in Sacramento County; and

WHEREAS, Basic industry and agriculture are the prime movers of business economy; and

WHEREAS, A prosperous industry broadens the tax base, thereby providing much needed revenues for community facilities and government services for all our people; and

WHEREAS, In this era of rapid industrial expansion and relocation throughout the United States, industries, in selecting locations, are vitally concerned about the relative business climate among the several states and counties; and

WHEREAS, A favorable business climate attracts needed industrial pay rolls; and

WHEREAS, Attitudes which build an unfavorable business climate could tend to deter the coming to Sacramento County of manufacturing plants which, in the relocation process, are free to seek the most favorable locations elsewhere in the West for serving western markets; and

WHEREAS, Preservation of our good business climate is in the public interest and can be continued without discriminating against any other interest in Sacramento County; now, therefore, be it

Resolved and ordered by the board of supervisors, That in the enactment of ordinances and the adoption of administrative rules and regulations relating to business, industry, and agriculture, it shall carefully consider such matters in order that they will not have a discriminating or deterring effect upon the investment of capital and the creation of needed pay rolls in Sacramento County; and be it further

Resolved, That the board of supervisors does hereby extend its thanks to the California State Legislature for its enactment of A.C.R. 26; and be it further

Resolved, That the board of supervisors does hereby declare it to be its policy to welcome new industry to Sacramento County, and it pledges its full cooperation in maintaining Sacramento County as the financial and commercial hub of the Sacramento Valley; and be it further

Resolved, That the clerk of the board of supervisors be and he is hereby authorized and directed to transmit suitable copies of this resolution to the Chief Clerk of the State Assembly, the Secretary of the State Senate, the representatives of Sacramento County in the State Legislature, and to the California State Chamber of Commerce.

Passed and adopted by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Sacramento, State of California, this eighth day of April, 1957, by the following vote, to wit:

Ayes: Supervisors Bonetti, Garlick, Hoffman, Kelley, Elmer.

SENATE SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON GOVERNMENTAL ADMINISTRATION
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April 10, 1957

Hon. Harold J. Powers, President and Members of the Senate

GENTLEMEN: Your Senate Special Committee on Governmental Administration, to which the Rules Committee assigned the subject of district attorneys' salaries, has conducted studies on this subject and reports as follows:

The Constitution assigns to the Legislature the responsibility for fixing the salaries of the district attorneys in the several counties of the State.

As was the case with the judges prior to the 1955 legislation establishing a formula for judges' salaries, the district attorneys' salaries have been handled in separate bills for each district attorney in the State with the exception of those counties wherein the charter provides for the fixing of salaries of the county officers by the board of supervisors.

In reviewing present salaries established for district attorneys throughout the State, it was found by the committee that there was a considerable lack of uniformity and proper relationship in the salaries paid district attorneys, county by county. There has also been a lack of consistency as to whether the district attorney is allowed private practice, which in some instances accounts for the rather low salaries being paid and in effect amounts to part-time salaries.

In considering this problem the committee concludes and recommends that:

1. The office of district attorney should be a full-time office in counties of 40,000 population and over.
2. There should be established two classes of district attorneys; Class 1 being counties of 250,000 to 500,000 population and Class 2, 40,000 to 250,000 population.
3. The population definition adopted by the Legislature for judges should apply to the district attorneys.
4. Uniform salaries should be established for each class.

The committee further concludes and recommends that the salary for Class 1 should be established at $15,000 and for Class 2 at $13,500. The committee believes that if the State is able to get competent attorneys to abandon private law practice to serve on the bench at these salaries, it should also be able to get competent attorneys to serve as district attorneys at the same salaries. However, the committee refused the suggestion of the district attorneys that the salaries of the district attorneys be by statute fixed the same as the judges.

The committee, believing that in the counties of 40,000 population or over the office should be full time, also recognized that in changing a system which has been in existence since the beginning of the State, it would be inherently unfair to do so without providing ample time for the transition and adjustment. Many of the incumbent district attorneys took the office at small salaries based upon the knowledge that they could engage in private practice and for that reason were willing to assume the responsibilities of district attorney at meager salaries.

To effect this transition the committee recommends that the elimination of private practice not be effective until the conclusion of the next succeeding term, which would allow a period of five years for the adjustment and transition.

Attached hereto is a table showing the present salaries and the proposed salaries in the counties which would be affected.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE MILLER, JR., Chairman
JOHN F. MCCARTHY, Vice Chairman
ROBERT I. MONTGOMERY

WHEREAS, Asparagus was first brought to San Joaquin County in the 1880's by one Robert Hickmott, who established the first canning operation in the Delta area where from a modest beginning the asparagus crop now covers some 60,000 acres of land which is about one-third of the area devoted to asparagus in the entire world, producing a crop valued at some seventeen million dollars ($17,000,000) annually; and
